OLD TIMERS IN REUNION AGAIN AT PARK

Pioneers Of City Assemble Again Along Big Run

MANY "OLD TIMERS" COME FROM DISTANCE

Twentieth Annual New Castle Reunion Is Drawing Throng To Park.

HARVEY E. MCGOUN

Although heavy-laden clouds made their appearance early this morning the prospect did not deter hundreds of Old-Timers living in rural and city sections from journeying to the Twentieth annual reunion of New Castle Old-Timers at Cascade Park.

During the past several weeks the committee which is in charge of the reunion have received letters from persons stating they would return "home" for the annual "get-together" and when noon arrived many of the Old-Timers from distant points were at the park.

Kiwanians Hear Attorney Speak

C. A. Patterson Makes Address To Club Members At Noon Meeting

In an interesting manner Attorney Clarence A. Patterson spoke to the Kiwanis club today at noon in the Y. M. C. A. on "The Legal Phase of Business." It was an appropriate talk directed as it was to a group made up almost entirely of business men and was to the point. In it he pointed out some of the legal pitfalls that might easily be avoided by the average business man and the close affinity between the legal profession and the business man.

Will Didn't Choose to be Mayor of Beverly Anyway

(Special To The News)
(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 17.—The state legislature passed a law today that no one not a politician could hold office and a hereby notify the world that Beverly Hills has left my bed and board and I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by said municipality. I don't want to knock, but the town never was as dead. There hasn't been a Beverly date line about a divorce since I got out, not a shooting, not even a swimming pool built. I didn't choose to be mayor in the first place, but they drafted me. Just a good man looking for something better. (Signed) WILL.

Cornerstone Box Of Old Bank Building Opened

Down among the fragments of brick and mortar and stone of what was the foundation of the old First National and National Bank of Lawrence County was unearthed this morning the cornerstone box, placed there when the building was started in 1867. Inside the iron box were a collection of coins, mostly three cent pieces bearing the date of 1867, some currency, on which the date is obliterated and a copy of the Pittsburgh Commercial Gazette, the date and printing being illegible. If the men who placed the coins in the cornerstone could see the corner where they stood in 1867, what a change they would see. They were just by the Civil War, the Reconstruction was on, Washington street was a village highway, there were no street cars or automobiles, and New Castle was a village. Today as they lay the foundation for the giant First National Bank of Lawrence County, they are building for a city, one that will grow perhaps as remarkably in the next fifty years as it has in the past fifty.

Potato Growers Stop At Patton Farm In County

Nearly 200 In State Tour Reaching New Castle Tuesday Evening.

SUPPER IS LATE; MESS TRUCK LOST

Tourists Spend Night At Carnegie Auditorium—Leave Early This Morning

About 200 potato growers of Pennsylvania, who are making a tour of the important potato regions of the state, arrived at the Charles Patton farm on the Harlansburg road last night about 9 o'clock, daylight savings time, in six huge motor coaches.

A slight mix-up in the schedule of the evening's program occurred as a result of the mess truck being lost. The tourists were very hungry and had expected that the mess truck would be there before they arrived.

Look Over Field
After the growers had alighted from the busses they were at once taken to the potato field on the Patton farm, one which has recently yielded over 400 bushels to an acre. A meeting was held there. Charles Patton, owner of the farm took the floor, you might say, and answered the question that was asked of him in a fine manner.

Dr. E. L. Nixon, potato expert from State College, who is also making the tour, then gave a talk. He also answered questions relative to potatoes which were put to him from all directions.

At the conclusion of this meeting the growers returned to a grove near the Patton home. Here music, furnished by the P. & O. orchestra, was provided for them. H. R. McCulloch, County Farm Agent of Lawrence county then announced that program had been arranged by the Lawrence County Potato Growers' Association and that two prominent residents of New Castle were slated to speak later on. ## Honolulu Is Buzzing With Great Excitement Awaiting Aerial Racers

By JOHN F. STONE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
HONOLULU, Aug. 17.—Excitement without a precedent in the history of Oahu was manifest early today as all Honolulu, from Gov. W. R. Farrington down, awaited the arrival at Wheeler field of the four Dole planes racing from the mainland. Thronged streets, decorated cars and besieged newspaper offices recalled a typically enthusiastic Hawaiian election. Most of the slogans prominently displayed from office buildings and on automobiles were boisterous prayers for the success of the Hawaiian entrant in the flight—Martin Jensen of Honolulu. Girl Flier Popular. "Aloha to Jensen," was a popular watchword. Other signs, however, were seen, wishing luck to the other flyers, especially to Miss Mildred Doran, who is flying with Auggie Pedlar in the

Four Of Planes Believed Near To Goal In Hawaii

Flying School Marm Is Believed To Be Among Race Leaders.

LITTLE INFORMATION AVAILABLE ON RACE

Message Is Received From One Plane That Carries Radio.

(International News Service)
On the last leg of the greatest race in the history of aviation, four planes were believed nearing Hawaii at 8 a. m. today Pacific Coast Time.

Two were believed to be in the lead—the Hearst plane Golden Eagle and Martin Jensen's Aloha.

A fairly close third was the Woolaroc with Art Goebel as pilot. Fourth in the race, was believed to be Miss Doran, piloted by Auggie Pedlar and carrying Miss Mildred Doran, Flint, Mich., school teacher, as a passenger.

One Message
From the only plane carrying sending apparatus came a message through the United States Naval Radio station at Wallup, at 7 a. m. Pacific Coast Time, announcing that the Woolaroc was then 1800 miles out of San Francisco and stating that "everything was running on schedule" on the last 700 mile lap.

Inasmuch as the fragmentary wireless reports of ships had placed both the Golden Eagle and the Aloha ahead of the Woolaroc and the Miss Doran well behind Goebel's plane, it was believed these positions were being maintained on the last leg of the race.

In effect the Golden Eagle and the Aloha are "sister ships" although built by different manufacturers and of slightly different type. Both are the work of a state designer, however. The Golden Eagle has shown its speed ability by setting a new record between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—The three leading Dole planes were believed to have passed the half-way mark of their 2400-mile race to Honolulu and to have entered the home stretch at 8 a. m. today, according to radio reports, mostly fragmentary, received here. At that hour, the steamship Manukal reported by radio that she had been in communication with Art Goebel's Woolaroc, the only plane in the race equipped with a transmitter. The Woolaroc gave her position, latitude 28.45 N; longitude 143 W, which (Continued On Page Two)

URGES CITIES BE MARKED

Hoover Asks Marking Of Cities Of State For Air Service.

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 17.—Governor John S. Fisher today placed with the State Chamber of Commerce a letter from Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, in which Hoover suggested that all cities in Pennsylvania be marked as an aid to military and commercial pilots. The letter from Hoover suggested that the governor call the necessity of city and town identification to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce throughout the state. Governor Fisher termed Hoover's suggestion exceedingly appropriate. He asked the Chamber of Commerce to take the necessary steps to advise its members throughout the state of the federal suggestion. Governor Fisher, in replying to Hoover's letter, promised any further co-operation the federal government may desire in advancement of aviation.

Northern Troops Capture Towns

Report Heavy Bombardment And Battle In Battle.

MAKE PLANS FOR SHANGHAI DEFENSE

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Aug. 17.—Following an intense bombardment, Northern troops have occupied Wuyi and Puchen, suburbs of Pukow, according to word received here today. The Northerners entered the two suburbs on Tuesday afternoon. Pukow is a point of strategic importance from a military viewpoint and Northern troops have been converging upon the city for a week.

The Cantonese defenders of Wuyi and Puchen were thrown into panic by the cannonading and fled precipitately towards Nanking. The Northerners are expected to enter Pukow on Friday.

Twenty thousand Cantonese, sent from Nanking to defend Wuhu, are reported to be returning. Nanking is crowded with demoralized Southern soldiers, who are unwilling to return to the fighting front.

The Shanghai authorities are making strong precautions for protection of the city following receipt of news that five trainloads of Pei Chung Hsi adherents have been entrained for Shanghai. These troops are reported to be unruly and it is feared that they are seeking loot. Discipline of the soldiers has broken down following the resignation of Gen. Chiang Kai Shek as commander in chief.

Have You Good Flying Field Location For City?

Is there a farm of 100 acres, level, on a main improved road within a radius of 5 miles of New Castle, that can be purchased at a reasonable and moderate price. This is the problem that is confronting the committee of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, working on the project of establishing an airport for New Castle.

Committee Meets
The committee consisting of Rex Patch, Louis G. Genkinger, Ira Ramsey and A. W. Chilton, held a meeting yesterday afternoon to consider the matter, and looked over the data on the sites that are so far available. They came to no conclusion, but decided to defer action for a brief time, pending a further investigation. In the meantime, Mr. Patch, of 507 Florence avenue, will be glad to receive any information on farms available, and to make a personal inspection of them before final action is taken.

Need 100 Acres
According to the government regulations, which would give recognition to the airport, a farm of about 100 acres, most of it level, is needed for the purpose. If you have the site that is desired, inform Mr. Patch at once. Action is to be taken very shortly on this project, Mr. Patch announces. Time is limited.

The veterans met for their business meeting at 10:30 in the morning and were banqueted at noon by the church people of Pulaski. In the afternoon the campfire was held.

The president of the organization, Rev. S. F. Forges of Huntingdon, was not able to be present on account of serious illness. It was a great disappointment to himself and to the comrades. At the business meeting it was voted to send greetings of the comrades to him with their prayers and best wishes.

POSSE HUNTS MURDER GANG

Three Campers Shot To Death By Supposed Party Of Moonshiners.

FOURTH MEMBER SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

(International News Service)
LOGAN, W. Va., Aug. 17.—A posse of forty citizens and officers today was combing the hills in the vicinity of Island Creek, near here, for a group of supposed moonshiners who yesterday attacked a party of ten campers with rifles from ambush, instantly killing three of the campers, and wounding a fourth man.

The campers, who said they were hunting ginseng, included a state prohibition officer, and his son, both of whom were included in those killed. Officers are working on the theory that the attackers, believing the party was hunting for moonshine stills, of which several were later found in the vicinity, organized the attack to protect their stills.

Those killed were: Edward Hensley, 50, prohibition officer, his son, Don, 19, and Ernest Marcum, 40, a brother of Edward Hensley, who made his way from the camp on foot to Logan, to obtain help. A posse was quickly formed and the bodies were brought here.

The attack occurred at a remote spot in the forest, at noon yesterday, and the first news was brought here late last night by David Hensley, a brother of Edward Hensley, who made his way from the camp on foot to Logan, to obtain help. A posse was quickly formed and the bodies were brought here.

Two suspects were arrested in the vicinity where the posse arrived, but no charges have been filed against them, and officers said they had little evidence to connect them with the shooting.

Biggest Primary Election Campaign In Local History

Large Field Of Entries For Most Every Major City And County Office.

TWO CANDIDATES FOR JUDGESHIP

List Of Candidates For Major City-County Offices Is Given.

They're off! With four hundred twelve entries in the Lawrence County political Free For All, the barrier went down Tuesday night at five o'clock and from now until seven o'clock p. m., September 20, this county will see the wildest scramble for political office ever staged here.

Nothing like it has been seen in years. Other campaigns have brought out many candidates but this year seems to top everything that has gone before. Hardly an office but what there are from three to eight times as many candidates as there are places to fill and the political rail birds who can usually spot the possible winners have thrown up their hands.

No More Entries
No more entries are possible now, the lists having closed with the closing of business on Tuesday night, August 16. The only way possible now to get a candidate on the ballot on September 1 is to use stickers, usually a futile job, and from the list of entries it would seem highly improbable that anybody who wanted to run was not in.

Some few fights are clearly drawn between a small number of candidates. For the additional judgeship made possible by the last General Assembly, there are but two candidates, James A. Chambers and Samuel L. McCracken.

Not only one county office is there no fight for the Republican nomination, that of coroner. The present incumbent, James P. Caldwell is unopposed. (Continued On Page Nine)

This is the day for the well loved Old Timers, this is the day when the scamper and romp, list to the strains of the banjo and fiddle, this is the day when they caper and stomp. Years are turned back as they gather and chatter, looks that are silver are brown for the nonce, stories are told of the pranks they accomplished. Oh this is the day for the things they did once. This is the day for their chance to be happy and gay, long may they live to enjoy such occasions, weather is right, seventy-seven today.

New Members Coming as a surprise to the officials of the State Potato Growers' Association, Mr. Walters presented the president of the state association, Mr. Lohr, with a check covering the dues for about 235 new members into the state association. These 235 members are from Lawrence county and are members of the local association. Mr. Lohr then thanked Mr. Walters in behalf of the State Association for the check, and told of the fine spirit that the local association has displayed in the past.

County Agent McCulloch then introduced Fred L. Rentz, president of the New Castle News in a fitting manner. Mr. Rentz told the growers of his early experience on the farm. He congratulated E. L. Nixon, potato specialist, Mr. Nixon has been, who gave a sketch of the industrial conditions of Western Pennsylvania. His talk was interesting and enjoyed by the visitors.

Mr. Lohr, president of the State Growers' Association then gave a short talk on the "400 club," that is composed of men who have raised 400 bushels or over to an acre. The members of this club were called upon to come up front and state the county they were from, the seed they used and the yield they had from their fields ever since they were members and the number of times they had qualified. This concluded the program.

Immediately after the meeting the growers boarded the buses and left for the city. One hundred and sixty meals had been reserved for the growers at several local eating places. On their arrival in town they went to the different places for their supper.

After they had finished eating, they went to the Carnegie auditorium, where over-night headquarters while in the city. Here the growers made ready for the night.

Each grower was given a cot and two blankets. As each one had to make his own bed it was interesting to watch them set up their sleeping equipment. Some of them desiring more choice sleeping spots, set their outfits on the stage. According to several men, cots are not easy to sleep on and so engaged rooms in local hotels.

At 12 p. m., daylight time, most of the cots had been set up and ready for their occupant.

The growers left this city for Pittsburgh, where they will visit the produce yards, shortly after 9 o'clock this morning.

Several local men joined the trip here and will make the remaining part of the journey.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Workmen are seen at "The Castle" engaged in finishing work on the interior of the big hotel during the evenings of late. Everything possible is being done to hasten work so that the big building will be ready for use early in October.

The job of grading the large sloping lawn at the Scottish Rite cathedral is still under way. This has been an immense task and not only required much grading but a large stone wall had to be built along a big stretch of Highland avenue.

Builders continue to make excellent progress on "Temple Israel" being erected at the corner of Highland and Moody avenues. This structure will be ready for use during the fall.

We do not envy the campers these cool mornings. Temperatures have been exceptionally low for several mornings for the month of August, supposed to be the most sultry of the summer.

HONOLULU IS BUZZING WITH EXCITEMENT AWAITING RACERS

With the navy armada thus arrayed, the chances of the Dole flyers missing the island group altogether and soaring off into the uncharted and lawless space of the west Pacific are lessened greatly. The submarines, filling the stretches of open water between the islands, give the flyers a continuous target nearly 400 miles long at which to aim.

Meanwhile, the army was not less watchful. The searchlights on Wheeler field and giant beacons flashed their cutting rays through the early morning mists. The army announced that it would fire smoke bombs on Wheeler field, heralding the arrival of each flyer. If weather conditions are good, the signals and possibly the planes may be seen from Honolulu.

Capt. H. J. Adams, radio and telegraph officer of the Hawaiian department of the United States navy, supervised personally the operation of the radio beacon on Hawaii island. The beacon, connecting San Francisco with Hawaii, is an ether highway which the Woolaroc and the Hearst monoplane can follow with their radio sets. C. C. Shangraw, signal corps reservist, who installed the beacon for the Matland-Hegenberger pioneer flight, assisted Captain Adams.

Planes were in readiness at Wheeler field to set sail at daylight. The escort flyers, in relays, will cruise north and south of the island of Oahu not only to greet the mainland visitors but also to usher them to Wheeler field, goal of the $35,000 flight.

SPEEDING FINE IMPOSED. Harold Brokaw of Youngstown, O., charged with speeding on East Washington street by Motorcycle Officer Criswell, paid a fine of $10 this morning.

Paper Mill Sale Again Adjourned

Again, when the auctioneer's hammer fell on the receiver's sale of the New Castle Paper Mills company's plant at 1 o'clock, eastern standard time yesterday, the sound was heard only by the receivers, the auctioneer and a few curious spectators.

Again no bidders made their appearance. This was the second sale held at the paper company's plant on the Ne-shannock street extension, being continued from earlier in the month.

Although the sale has been advertised in all of the prominent paper mills trade journals, posters sent broadcast all over the surrounding counties, according to John P. Lockhart, receiver for the New Castle Paper Products corporation, only a few of the curious attended the first and the second sale.

The sale was announced as continued to August 31, at 1 o'clock, eastern standard time, by Mr. Lockhart.

(Continued From Page One) would put the plane about 1400 miles at sea and 60 miles off her course. The Manukai's captain added, however, that he was not sure of the plane's figures and was endeavoring to check them.

The liner Manoa, rounding the turn on the Great Circle course and heading for Honolulu, reported to island stations that she had picked up an unsigned message from a ship far at sea telling of the passage high overhead of two Dole planes. The planes, according to the message, were flying closely together.

Radio reports picked up from ships at sea by the Post-Enquirer wireless station on the Oakland Municipal Airport prompted the belief that at 6 a. m. the Golden Eagle and the Aloha were between 1800 and 2000 miles out.

Contradicting a report relayed by the Esther Dollar, the City of Los Angeles, working directly with the Oakland station, said that she had sighted two planes high overhead at 3:05 a. m. Pacific Coast Time. The City of Los Angeles is bound for San Pedro, however, indicating that two of the ships, probably the Woolaroc and the Miss Doran, have deviated nearly 65 miles off course.

At 1:35, the airport station picked up a flash from the Manukai, in third Great Circle course, reporting the sighting of two planes. The Manukai attempted to signal them, but had no luck, the report added. This strengthened the belief that the two ships were the Aloha and the Golden to those stockholders whose stock certificates had been issued. There was no opposition to the placing of the mortgage, the election being merely a formality to comply with the law. Originally it was thought that a much larger mortgage would be needed to complete the building, but the sale of stock was so eagerly taken and the building costs have been kept down so well that the amount named was decided upon. Even this may be too much and if not all of it is necessary the directors will borrow just what is necessary.

ENTERING HIGH SCHOOL

THOUSANDS of young men and young women (they aren't boys and girls after they get out of the grades) are entering high school this year, and if they are the right kind of young people they will get the right kind of a thrill from this experience.

Entering high school is a epochal event in the life of anyone who is blessed with the opportunity. Most students never get beyond the graduation period in the high schools. After that they either go to work or loaf or do a little of each.

A great many young people who enter high school never graduate, and that is a very sad mistake for them to make, and a still graver mistake on the part of the parents, providing the latter deliberately give their consent to a child leaving high school without graduating, when it is not necessary.

The first day in high school marks the beginning of an important event in the life of the young man or young woman who enjoys the privilege of acquiring this important education.

There will come a time in the history of this country (and it is approaching rapidly nowadays), when a young person without a high school diploma is going to find things pretty hard in this life. For education is the stepping stone to success and independence and without it all is slavish labor and interminable discouragement. Those who are entering upon high school life are to be congratulated. They are marching over a royal road and paving their own life's highway so that progress will be smooth and sure.

DRESS REFORM AND HEALTH

SOMEONE is always alarmed about something. Here is a Wisconsin expert who says that there must be dress reform if we expect to stay the ravages of tuberculosis. He is particularly concerned because women dress too lightly. He says that the body is chilled and weakened by scanty clothing. It would be interesting to know how he has reached this conclusion. Isn't the overheating of the body also a peril? Generally speaking, much less clothing is worn by both men and women even in cold weather than once was the case. Yet the present generation appears to be about as healthy as any of its predecessors.

No rule of universal application can be laid down. It is obvious that women brave even winter weather less heavily clad than men. Do they suffer from it? Apparently not. Indeed, the modern girl usually is in the best of health. Look at her athletic eminence as compared with that of her grandmother when she was young. Custom is a potent factor in dress. People who don't "wrap up" much seem to mind the cold no more than those who do. Man, far more conventional than woman in this respect, is more and more discarding woolen underwear.

The effect of dress on health is still largely a matter of speculation declares an exchange. The city dweller probably suffers more from overheated buildings than from the descent of the thermometer. In any case, all the doctors in the world will not persuade women to dress except as they like.

LEGIONNAIRES ADVANCE ON FRANCE

ARRIVAL in France last week of the advance guard of the American Legion was scarcely noted in this country, but it is the beginning of a new overseas expedition which will carry between 17,000 and 20,000 war veterans and their relatives cross the Atlantic.

Paris is preparing for the invasion with an enthusiasm that quite puts to shame the mechanical perfection of service to tourists. These, if you please, are the "dobois" (doughboys) of 1917-18, and France remembers them. She could not forget if she would, for the poor remains of their heroic companions, dead upon French battlefields, now repose by the thousands in the national cemeteries, while great and beautiful monuments, many of them rededicated to the work of perpetual charity or service in French communities, have been erected as markers of the Great Advance of America's youth in the World War.

As the Leviathan docked at Cherbourg with the advance guard of Legionnaires another detachment of 600 was leaving—of all places—Hoboken, which veterans, mindful of the submarine menace, promised themselves as one of three possible destinations, the others having nothing to do with this earth. Nine other sailings of Legion contingents are scheduled during the remainder of this month, but the bulk of the army will move overseas during the first two weeks in September.

To those who profess misgivings about international complications there is but one reply: Be sensible. The Legion convention in Paris will go down in history as a wonderful idea and a more wonderful success. The youth of America who did so much to seal the bonds of love and esteem between France and the United States in the days of the World War, are "going over" again, and going over big, as they say behind the scenes.

BENEATH THE STARS

Beneath the stars at night when all was clear,
We sat and talked and wondered how and when
The truth first broke within the sight of men;
What was it set them dreaming, thinking here;
Led them to hope and struggle year by year,
To turn their backs upon the cave man's den;
See order here and beauty's charm and then

Discover God where all seemed bleak and drear.

"They must have felt within themselves," one said,
"The spark eternal and the fire divine."

They must have heard God whispering overhead
On nights like this with every star ashine."

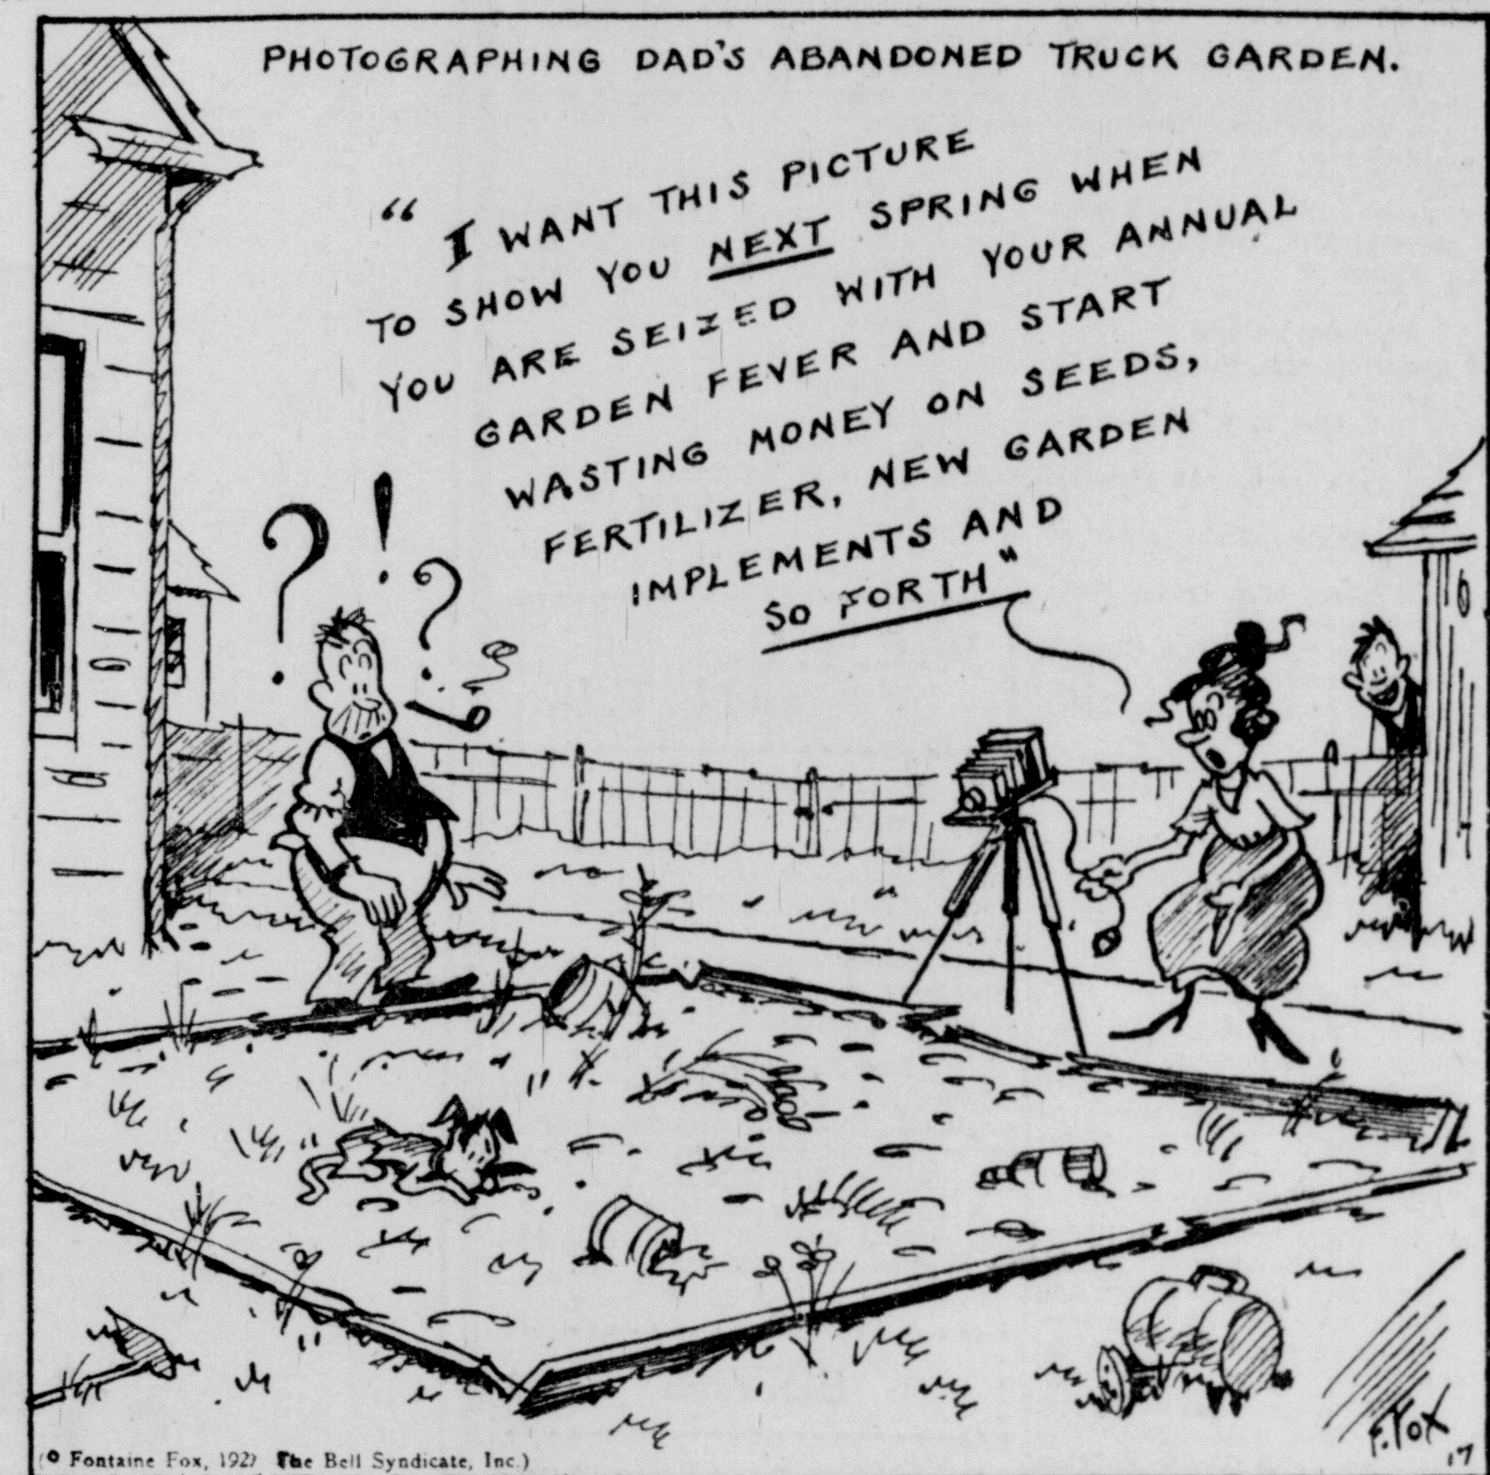

And all agreed that man began to rise
When first he sensed the splendor of the skies.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:56. Sun rises tomorrow 5:13.

Most musical comedies die because they are weak on their legs.

One local man we know has eliminated his old trouble of being late to work. He is on time every morning now. He has made arrangements with his daughter to call him up when she comes in. And it works.

It may be interesting to realtors to know that the property in London owned by King George has the Duke of Lancaster has been in the family since 1280. Wonder if he couldn't make some money on the deal now if he were to put up a "For Sale" sign?

Both the German airplanes that started for America turned back. One had trouble shortly after it started and the other feared the storms when it reached the coast of Ireland. When Charley Lindbergh started across the ocean he ran into storms, too, but he said to himself that it was just as far back through the storm as it was going straight ahead for Paris, and he kept on going. It is the man at the helm that counts in piloting a ship, whether on the sea or in the air. Lindbergh knows his ozone all right.

According to state police, headlights on automobiles should be turned on one hour after the sun goes down. Enforcement of this to the hour will make it necessary for all motorists to carry an almanac with them to look up the sundown time, so as to be within the law.

A better way than carrying an almanac would be to read Hints and Dints every day. It gives the sunrise and sunset, and we are all right if we don't lose our Dr. Miles' almanac.

Buy coal now, is the advice that is given by the coal dealers, and it seems to be good. Coal is bound to take a rise after the present stocks are exhausted and it will be high until about the first of the year, when a drop is again expected. Those people who have the cash or credit, or those who can get coal without paying for it, can save money by acting at once.

Garter purses for women are not very popular just now because it isn't safe for women to carry all their money in plain sight.

Unusually low sirens are to be attached to the motorcycles of the police here, so you will know who is coming when you hear one loud toot behind you. Better slow down at once, for you will know what it is. Don't make a run for it or you will be a goner.

This year a steno is to be Miss Pittsburgh at Atlantic City. Two years ago a steno won the prize, so perhaps Miss Pittsburgh may have a chance.

Man is a queer machine. The brain furnishes motive power for the tongue, yet the less power there is the faster the tongue works.

The happiest people are those who haven't cultivated appetites they cannot satisfy. A little money does them all right. But there are not many of this kind.

Now with women occupying the front seats instead of the back seats, do you suppose they will be as insistent on driving as ever? A woman is a woman whether in the front seat or rear.

Andy Gump, up at Shady Rest, is practicing the piscatorial art with worms. He is with President Coolidge in this respect.

The movies are growing more popular in Mexico than bull-fighting. That is, indeed, a great tribute to the men and women of the screen.

The Hints and Dints man has received two picture post cards from Harper Montgomery, head of 'The News' business office. Harp makes some comments on the road to the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky and on the cave itself, as follows: "Residents of Pennsylvania do not appreciate their good roads until they tour through the mountains of Tennessee. Some of these mountain roads are so crooked you can see the tail light of your machine on the last curve. Six hundred and one miles from home. Was in sand cave yesterday where Collins was trapped."

A needless noise always is noisier than a necessary one.

Marriage is a good enough game if neither the husband nor wife hold all the trumps.

There was a tired business man, a member of that busy clan, that shields itself from prying eyes behind that good old lying-in Conference.

He rested in his office chair and ducked a lot of toil and care and smoked cigars in sweet content, and thus his busy hours were spent in Conference.

Came anxious strangers by the score to camp outside his office door, and angrily they went their way, for he was busy all the day. —In Conference.

And so he died and at the gate an angel bade him stand and wait and said to him with frowning brow, "St. Peter's mighty busy now —In Conference." —Birmingham Age-Herald.

Now some one sends out a warning against people eating too much green corn. At the present price of it there isn't much danger of any one founding themselves—and it's even a less chance if they use butter on it.

The trouble with most people is that they want to be important and don't know how.

Charley Chaplin is trying to settle his divorce suit brought against him by his wife. If that bogo has any human intelligence now is his time to show it, for it that case ever comes to trial, and it is set for this month, he might as well go to Mexico and stay there because his child wife has the dirty goods on him.

It is reported that a North Hill girl when asked at a class in domestic science what to put in vegetable soup, replied "whatcha got?"

A Franklin man claims he saw a white sparrow. Heinz preserve us!

Most men in a business controversy admit they have tact while deploring the fact that the other fellow's supply has run short.

Nine times out of ten "I beg your pardon" gets by a whole lot better than "Go 't' ell."

In a butchering contest in Dennison, O., the winning butcher killed, skinned and dressed a beef in twenty-five minutes and four seconds. He knew his beef all right.

Jolly the modern American girl of today and chances are she'll come back with something like this: "If that's your line, I'm not the birdie who is going to hang my clothes on it."

St. Mary's wonderful new Cathedral is another addition to New Castle's fine buildings. Cities are made up of beautiful buildings, both public and private. A great deal of credit is due the loyal people of St. Mary's parish for their wonderful work and great sacrifice in order to get this wonderful edifice. It has been a sacrifice to every member of that church we feel sure.

The Way of a Ship.
Mark Twain Would Wonder.
Dog and Perfume Ladies.
And Only One Star.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.)

The way of a ship in the midst of the sea has changed since Solomon, the son of David, wrote his Proverbs. The Hardy Phoenician, bringing precious freight for Solomon's temple, and the American tourist of the General Grant-Mark Twain period would wonder at the ships of 1927.

This is written on the Aquitania, one of the many floating cities that cross the ocean, as free from romance as the moving pictures shown on deck. A. Whoever has crossed in old days rubs his eyes, like Rip Van Winkle.

Along the deck, much wider than Fifth Avenue's sidewalk, and almost as steady, comes a wheezy, short, fat lady, leading a small dog to match with all its owner's qualities, plus a disposition to snap at passing legs. They turn at the notice, "No dogs allowed forward of this sign."

The dog wears a beautiful ribbon. The lady, possibly a grandmother, wears brilliant pink silk stockings of such high visibility that an old-time captain might have put her in irons. Much good on her dress and on her cheeks profusely spread the rouge that Jeezbeel wore, in Racine's description, pour repaire, des ans, l'irreparable ouvrage.

That modern seafaring lady passes and here comes another, 40 years younger, 40 times worse. As she passes in bright red, she scatters all the perfumes of Arabia, which are the worst, stickiest perfumes on earth, and smokes an ostentatious cigarette.

The cigarette is used as a wand, waved to emphasize a speech that she is making, deeply appreciated by a young man with black, sleek, greasy hair. A stomach caving inward, a foreign accent and no more back head than a Russian wolfhound.

The young woman's father probably has money.

Hundreds spend a week in this floating hotel, not realizing that they are on the ocean until the fog horn blows. Then some say, "I don't like that fog horn." The more nervous drown the fog horn with two more cocktails.

Modern American wealth has changed ships into cocktail and breakfast food emporiums. There are 30 kinds of body destroyers listed as cocktails on the smoking-room program, and indignant Brits on their own ship wade through a list of American breakfast foods that amazes and outrages them.

There comes a radio from International News Service: "German pilots, Edzard and Frisch, flying Junkers machine, beat Chamberlain's endurance record, flying 32 hours 12 minutes. You thank heaven that soon we shall fly to Europe, escaping the dog and perfume ladies. Vain hope. They will be on the airplane, promading a deck above the clouds, as soon as planes are a little bigger."

In old day after dark sentimental young people stood whispering behind the wheel house. The older, more serious, looked at the starry sky, muttering about Arcturus, Orion and Pleiades and the chambers of the south.

That is "old stuff" now. There is no wheel house accessible on a modern ship, and you are not supposed to look at the stars.

The only one of six decks from which they can be seen is dark and night. Nobody uses it. To walk there is to interrupt your musings by falling over shuffle boards or imitation greens for golfers.

In the smoking-room pools are auctioned on the ship's daily run, the pools running to thousands of dollars. The chief smoking room steward, generously remembered by the winner of each pool, gets twice as much as the ship's captain. That also is modern. Many a bootlegger gets four times as much as the president of the United States.

In spite of ladies and dogs 90 per cent is improvement in modern travel, which is faster, safer, more comfortable. You have a room with real beds and windows, and higher sea level than much of the land on Long Island; waves cannot reach you. News comes through the ether from both shores. And unlike the brother of old Jerome of Travers & Jerome, you don't wait ten days to learn that Wall Street has ruined you. You know it the same day.

T. Coleman Du Pont, who, according to reports circulated in Washington, may soon resign his seat in the United States senate, has been one of the representatives of the state of Delaware in the upper house since 1921. For many years Senator Du Pont has been an influential factor in Republican politics, but it is a capitalist and financier that he is most widely known. Although a member of the immensely wealthy Du Pont family, T. Coleman Du Pont has been longed to a branch that had located in Louisville and was not himself born in riches. Early in life he started out to win his own fortune, with such success that at 35 he had become a millionaire and returned to Delaware to take control of the great powder works which had been the source of the Du Pont family fortune. Since then he has figured in some of the greatest financial enterprises in the history of the country.

EXIT SHERLOCK HOLMES

A new book has appeared on my desk purporting to be the closing adventures of Mr. Sherlock Holmes by Conan Doyle.

In the preface of this book Mr. Doyle says that this is to be the last of the Holmes stories.

He ought to know for he made the first of them, and when a man announces the death of his own offspring it is rather likely to be true. Pardon us, while we shed a tear over the last of a valued friend. We were one of the first to welcome him. We have followed his adventures closely whenever we could get hold of them, and now we mourn his passing.

We have received the news of the death of many prominent men. They have been missed. But none, I venture to say, more so than the passing of this fictional character. Holmes was the prototype of all detective stories, have been the delight of great and small. As the admirable Hooker said of the Science of Law, so we say of Sherlock Holmes that "the very least felt his care and the greatest was not exempted from his power."

Why does the detective story interest us all?

Well, in the first place, crime is probably one of the most interesting things that we know. In it a man pits himself against all the forces of society and even against the Deity himself. And, somehow, there is something in us all that sympathizes with the outlaw and the rebel.

And again, we rather like to see the victim apprehended. We enjoy the old-fashioned triumph of law and order over violence. We like to hiss the villain and see his schemes come to naught. Detective stories are problems in human conduct. The characters are usually clean cut. The villain is nothing but a villain and the hero is nothing but a hero.

There is no realistic mixing in of the colors. Holmes has done a great service to humanity in beguiling its leisure moments, and who ever can cheer us up a bit is quite as much entitled to our thanks as the one who instructs us.

Hence we pipe our eye for the lamented Sherlock. We lay aside with a sigh those enthralling tales which have been done into a book.

Along with Victor Hugo and his Jean Valjean, Goethe and his Werther, Robert Louis Stevenson and his Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, Doyle has created a character, and Sherlock Holmes will linger in the memories of mankind after the oblivion of many real people has passed away.

KELLYGRAMS

By FRED C. KELLY.

YOUR CHURCH

Why do we have so many churches with vacant pews, when fewer churches not only could accomplish more, but having less overhead cost, could afford to employ more competent preachers?

The same question might be asked about lodges, college fraternities, societies founded upon ancestry, military orders, and clubs of one kind or another. Why are there so many different kinds?

At first thought, the answer might seem to be because there are so many kinds of people. But that does not explain the fact that the same kind of people do not exist because there are so many different types of folk.

There is probably just as much church as in both. The real answer is the elude instinct in mankind, the desire to form little exclusive groups. Having organized a set, or a club, or a church, those on the inside have the satisfaction of feeling that they are better in certain respects than people who do not belong.

When I was a youngster and attended the Presbyterian church, I had the impression that Presbyterians, because of certain slight differences in beliefs, were much superior as a class to Methodists or Baptists; I don't recall that anybody ever told me so. I simply sensed it. But so strong was this feeling, though nothing was said about it, amongst us Presbyterians, that even today when I meet a Methodist or an Episcopalian, I find myself self thinking that he is not the social or religious equal of a Presbyterian. My reasoning power tells me that such an idea is utterly absurd; but when I don't stop to reason—as often happens—the same sneaking notion remains that I was raised in a church, somewhat better than his.

Now, if everybody in town belonged to one big church, what would be the fun? How could one person feel that he was the sectarian superior of somebody else? But by quibbling about it, amongst us Presbyterians, or ritual, it is possible to find a sufficient excuse to break into smaller groups, each happily sure that it is nearer to the truth than the others.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MARK TWAIN ALSO SAID IT.

If one were to scrutinize the great seal of the state of Utah he would see that the beehive is the emblem of that state and a more suitable and appropriate insignia would be difficult to conjure up. A most prosaic thing, yes, but do we not usually associate industry and unceasing toil with it? The traveler in southwestern Utah immediately recognizes the appropriateness of the great seal for it is apparent that the early Mormon settlers in that locality endured hardships and deprivation in their struggle with Nature which the present generation cannot comprehend. Their trim little villages along the banks of the Virgin, and other rivers there are gems set in the midst of a menacing desert. None but the hardy people could accomplish such lasting results.

In the town of St. George, a community of approximately two thousand inhabitants, known as the Dixie of Utah, because of its heat in the summer and warmth in the winter, is a Mormon Temple, the building of which typifies the strength of character and determination of the Mormon. The construction of this Temple was commenced in 1874 and in laying the foundation for it a bed of quicksand was encountered, no bedrock could be found with the temple tools then at hand. A message was sent to Brigham Young at Salt Lake City asking his advice and intimating that it would be necessary to change the site of the Temple to a more stable footing. The message came back from Brigham Young to do no further work on the temple until his arrival. St. George is three hundred miles from Salt Lake City and the intervening distance is largely desert waste, but Brigham Young, as quickly as means of transportation would permit, came to that little community to help them in their difficulty. He came whistling triple-traveling, using a small brass cannon found in the town, as a driver, sent the men to the mountains thirty miles away for timber and drove the timbers to bed-rock. He then secured massive rocks from the surrounding hills and on the foundation of the temple was constructed which today stands as a monument to the enterprise and ingenuity of these people. The Temple was constructed of hand-surfaced volcanic rock and lime-stone, taken from the hills, hauled by ox-team, and wherever the oxen were unable to go, the timbers were dragged by hand. It took years to complete the construction of the Temple but it stands today as firmly as when built.

In seeking entrance to the Temple the visitor is politely informed that none but an accredited Mormon can enter, and that the Temple is a sacred place and as zealously guarded as are the Temples of Mecca.

It early became apparent to the Mormons settling in the far places that some provisions should be made for aiding and assisting those who might be in need and a Society was formed, some of the duties of which were to provide for those who might be less fortunate than their brethren. The administration of this Society devolved upon the women-folk and food and shelter were provided for those demanding the same. It was the custom, whenever food was provided in this way to return the same or a greater amount than that given, and in bountiful years a surplus was laid by for the lean periods. The extent of the workings of this Society can well be understood when it is stated that the Society, through the years preceding the Great War, accumulated a large surplus of wheat. When the United States entered the War and wheat became the crying need of the Nation, these sturdy people comprising only the Mormon community of St. George gave to their country the wheat which had been saved by them, and the Great War accomplished a large surplus of wheat. When the United States entered the War and wheat became the crying need of the Nation, these sturdy people comprising only the Mormon community of St. George gave to their country the wheat which had been saved by them, and the Great War accomplished a large surplus of wheat. When the United States entered the War and wheat became the crying need of the Nation, these sturdy people comprising only the Mormon community of St. George gave to their country the wheat which had been saved by them, and the Great War accomplished a large surplus of wheat.

There were seventeen officers in the Sunshine Division children of the same father and of four living mothers, grandson of Brigham Young, who also served their country.

Watching State Policemen Examine 75 Candidates For Auto Driver's Permit

Approximately 75 persons, young and old, male and female, underwent the ordeal of a "driver's test" here on Wallace avenue Tuesday when a detachment of five state highway patrolmen conducted the examinations. A big majority of the persons passed the tests which were held from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m.

Some may say that the test is not an ordeal and that a person should approach it without trepidation but not everyone has a nerve of steel and it was but natural that the young lady should feel the chills racing up and down her spinal column as the time for "zero hour" approached.

Lose Self-Possession.

Many of the persons fail, not because they cannot drive an automobile according to the "plans and specifications" demanded by the official testers but because they worry so much over the test that when the minute approaches for them to loosen the brakes and start the car they become a bundle of nerves.

This is where the difference between testers enters the limelight. Should the patrolman be a heavy-weight with the frown of a Jack Dempsey and the gruff voice of the wolf as recalled in the story of Red Riding Hood, the girl will probably find her nerves doing a Charleston. As a result, she is apt to fail.

She Needs Confidence.

Providing the tester wears a smile and backs it up with a real, pleasant "Good morning, Miss," the chances are that the young lady will skim through the test with the same ability as she drove the car when her friend, the grocery boy, or "the nice looking young man around the corner" taught her the tricks of driving.

At any rate, of the 75 who took the test Tuesday, many were women. Some of them passed and some of them did not.

The younger type of male didn't have much trouble showing the wearers of the state uniform that they knew how to operate cars and the latter included everything from Fords to Lincolns.

"Turn on the Lights!"

An observer watched the long string of cars with prospective drivers and operators draw to the curb, preparatory to the test. As they did, a stern visaged but immaculately groomed patrolman commanded:

"Turn on the lights!" The order was complied with. Believing the gentleman had gone, the young lady put out the lights.

"Turn on the lights!" came a second command, this time from the rear of the car. He had gone there to see if the tail light was illuminated. She thought he had departed.

That was shock No. 1. The patrolman handed a sheet of paper to the candidate driver and directed her to the table, saying to the driver who had taught the girl:

"You stay in the car!"

This was shock two, the girl having expected the young man to accompany her to the table to be her guide through the long list that the other examiners would answer.

Tenseless Disappears.

In the meanwhile the different candidates had been tested, and it was with a feeling of "watchful waiting" suspense, one might say, that the young girl waited the order: "Drive on!" Her fear was greatly alleviated, however, when another young state patrolman stepped to the car and said:

"Ready, Miss?" said the trembling voice.

"Yes, sir-r-r," said the trembling voice. "Just take your time now and do not become frightened. Drive along this street until I tell you to stop," said the patrolman, a smile showing two rows of evenly-matched teeth.

Surprise No. 1.

This was surprise No. 1, the girl having expected a gruff "Drive on until I tell you when to stop the car!" She loosened the brakes, stepped on the starter, pulled the choke and away went the car in low, then into second and it sped along gracefully later, on high.

"Pull up to the curb," said the tester, adding "and then stop the car, please."

His words were suited with action. "Please turn around in the street," he instructed.

Street Very Narrow.

The young girl loosened the brakes, stepped on the starter and "gave her the gas", pulled the wheel to the left and started slowly across the street. East Wallace avenue is almost as narrow as a ribbon clerk's view of life and the car had no sooner started than the girl had to apply the brake to stop and reverse the auto.

Having practiced turning in a wide street, this sort of hampered the girl and she became a bit confused. She got the gear in "second" instead of reverse and the car started to climb the curb but did not touch the grass—as she had her "mind made up to pass" and quickly stopped the car.

"I see you almost cut the lady's lawn," said the patrolman with a smile as the girl quickly reversed and backed up with grace. "Yes, I did get that in wrong," said the girl. She thought the "cop" was going to "bawl her out" but instead he smiled again.

Watches Examiner Closely. "Drive to the table where we started from," said the patrolman and the girl did.

He told her to stop the car and she did. He took out his pencil and began marking his "official sheet".

The girl's heart started to sink. She wondered if the little error had cost her a license. She still wondered until he began asking questions about passing street cars, how lights should be focused and why persons have their licenses to drive revoked. Her nimble brain played hop-skip-jump with the questions, straight to the point.

She watched the examiner's every move.

Oh, Boy, It's O. K. He continued to mark the paper and finally her pair of brown eyes saw the capital letters "O. K." inscribed on his sheet and he next placed them on her card.

She sighed. It could have been heard at Hill's bathing beach.

"Take this card to the gentleman at the table and they will mark it. Then use it as a driver's license until you receive your regular card," said the examiner as he left the car—with a pleasant "Good day, Miss."

"Good day—thanks," she replied, whereupon the car whirled away and she told her young man tutor: "Gee, I'm glad I passed. Do you know he wasn't a bit angry with me when I made that little error, was he?"

From observation that examiner's smile instilled confidence in the girl and instead of being a "bundle of nerves" she became a rather cool young motorist—who will now begin to learn how to drive and three years from now she will begin to learn how much she knows and doesn't know about an automobile.

"I owe this idea to Herbert Brenon"

Alton Hamilton remarks to his friend Carl de Mel as he offers him a Lucky Strike at the Manor Country Club.

Herbert Brenon, noted Film Director, writes:

"During the pandemonium of motion picture production—as in my direction of 'Beau Geste'—I find Lucky Strikes are not only soothing to tired vocal chords, but they have the best flavor. The constant use of my voice in my work demands that I keep it in condition. Lucky Strikes are the only cigarettes which protect me from an irritated throat, and which I enjoy to the utmost."

Herbert Brenon

You, too, will find that Lucky Strikes are mild and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked, made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"It's toasted"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.

DAWES IRKS BY HIS TALK

Deep Vein Of Irreverence In Philosophy Of Vice President.

RESULTS ONLY THING FOR HIM

By CHARLES P. STEWART.
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The News

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Through all of Vice President Charles G.
Dawes' philosophy there runs a deep vein of irreverence.

It crops out from time to time, too obviously for anybody to mistake, as it did the other day in the course of the vice president's contemptuous references to the experts' handling of the recent Geneva naval limitations negotiations.

The truth is, Br'er Dawes has no respect for professionals.

"Results" is C. G. Dawes' criterion of everything.

If a thing's done, he doesn't care a hoot how it was done, provided the job's satisfactory.

If it isn't done, and ought to have been, or if it turns out to have been botched in any respect, he thinks it was a fizzle, no matter how strictly according to Hoyle the procedure was.

Dawes would rather submit to a surgical operation at the hands of a horse doctor, with a carving knife, and be cured, than have the highest-priced specialist do it, with the most up-to-date kit of instruments, and die under the anaesthetic.

International relations, as Dawes sees 'em, are business—important business but no black art about it—and his idea of business is that it's something to be transacted.

If a matter of business arises between two or more countries, he wants to see it taken up, progress and be disposed of.

He can't conceive of a group of genuine men of affairs sitting down to settle a question that really has got to be settled and reporting, ultimately anything but some sort of a settlement.

Otherwise business would be impossible, he reckons.

But international experts don't try to transact business, or know or care anything about it, the vice president has concluded.

His observation is that they do nothing but play a game they've invented—a game called diplomacy—which is no more like business than tennis is like it, or golf or poker.

They play a lot of "draws," too.
Dawes adds, and in his opinion the Geneva conference wound up in one of them.

This is why, not long ago, Dawes spoke so slightly of a "career man" in the state department.

A "career man's" a professional diplomat.

He begins at the bottom and works up and the complaint frequently has been made that the reason this country is so often out-generalled diplomatically is our lack of enough of this kind of experts in key positions.

What if we are out-generalled?
queries Dawes. It's only a game, anyway.

The Dawes theory is that American business men, opposed to foreign diplomats, may lose all the diplomatic games, but they'll get the best of all the business dickers, for the simple reason that they know business and the diplomats never heard of such a thing.

He doesn't care a cent for all the games they lose.

What he's interested in is the business clean-ups they'll score to their credit.

Such talk as Dawes indulged in at Buffalo—in Secretary Kellogg's presence, too, and the Prince of Wales'— and Stanley Baldwin's—is very painful to the state department.

It has diplomatic traditions to uphold.

The vice president doesn't go in for tactfulness in his speeches, however.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

SUN SADNESS
Mr. Hop Toad stopped talking, heaved a deep sigh of delight, closed his eyes and for a few moments not another word would he say for all of Peter's coaxing. At last, just as the Boy was beginning to believe his friend had dropped off to sleep, Hoppy spoke again and he asked such a queer question.

"Don't you get dreadfully lonely on a sunshiny day, Boy?" queried Toad, opening wide his bright jeweled eyes.

"Good gracious, no," declared the Boy, and he was so decided about it that Toad stared at him, surprised.

"When the skies are gray and the rain comes down so fast I can't go out, well, then is the time I wish I had some one to play with. But when the sun shines I don't mind being alone a bit. I stay outdoors and go visiting all my little friends of the field and forest."

"Strange!" chuckled Hop Toad. "Now, with me it is just the other way around. When the sun is out and the earth is warm and dry all I want to do is to keep in the shade. Then I want some of the fellows to join me. But they never do. I am always alone and so sad. My mother told me a terrible tale of a Frizzled Frog that I have never forgotten. I am a Frog's first cousin, to be sure, but I have always been on my guard lest some such fate might happen to me."

"Tell me the story of the Frizzled Frog, Toad," pleaded Peter, and so Toad began.

"Well, once upon a time there lived a little Frog who was very, very full and would not do as his father and mother told him. He didn't mean to be naughty, but you see he didn't quite believe what other and wiser folks told him—he always wanted to find out things for himself. Now, one of the things that every Frog is taught is never to go to sleep in a shallow pool."

"But why?" asked Peter, interrupting Hoppy's tale.

"Because while he was asleep the sun might grow so strong and make the water so hot that it would scorch the skin of the Frog and change its beautiful green to a horrid yellow. And once the skin of a Frog is harmed he becomes ill and dies—for 'tis

"You can't teach old dogs new tricks," she declared at a dinner here. "I have been in the House of Commons for nine years, but I have not taught them anything. The people who matter are the people who think, not the people who rule," she added cryptically.

No peace in sight in coal miners' walkout according to the newspapers. Full details of the controversy may be observed on the bills rendered the public next winter.—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

A Welsh national party has been founded in Wales, which aims at a government of Wales, separate of the English government.

Welsh nationalists demand recognition of the fact that Wales is a separate nation with a divine right to govern itself.

They claim separate representation for Wales in the League of Nations.

The Welsh people must be separately consulted before engaging in English wars and the lives of the people must not be at the disposal of the English government.

They believe that the good of Wales is different from the good of England and they demand great changes in the administration of Welsh education, transport, electricity, land, housing, law and foreign affairs.

The Welsh national party will adopt a policy of passive resistance to English government and their first serious move will be to withdraw Welsh representatives from the English parliament.

The financial and moral support of the Welsh population of United States has been promised to the Welsh national party by American Welshmen.

New Castle News, Manager.
Dear Sir:
Enclosed you will find a check for $2.50. Please renew my subscription for the New Castle News for six months, beginning at date of reception.

I am an old New Castle boy, and used to be a newsboy back in New Castle. I have wandered about considerably since then, first as a college man of Grove City college, thence to teaching, then on to Cornell university and the University of Chicago.

Later I became a professor of physics in North Carolina and Kentucky, but due to ill health, caused by lightning shocks, I have given up my college work, and I am now in the extreme northland raising the beautiful silver black fox and thoroughly enjoying God's beautiful country.

You will remember me, I judge, as an old school mate, and I want to extend to you and my other New Castle friends an invitation to visit my fox ranch near Harbor Springs, Mich.

I am located just seven miles from Petoskey, Mich., and two miles from Harbor Springs, a summer resort region of the northland.

I have not been in New Castle for three years but talk over long distance to my mother, Mrs. Harriet Macom, about every week. So in this way I keep pretty well in touch with the old home town.

Sincerely yours,

OIL MAN TURNS NEMESIS

Squeezed out of the oil company which he founded, C. C. Julian, former head of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, is devoting his time to radio denunciations of the men who tricked him, and then, according to his charges, brought about the crash which has meant tragedy to scores of investors on the Pacific coast. Julian demands full restitution for the wealthy men he blames for the disaster.

BOMBS CAUSE FINE OF $100

Agreement With Mayo Is Broken In Fireworks Display.

Previous to the celebration held Monday and Tuesday in honor of Saint Rocco and the Blessed Virgin Mary, an agreement was reached between Mayor William H. Dunlap and the Little and New Castle Fireworks companies and the committee in charge, by which it was understood that no loud bombs would be used in the fireworks demonstrations. The committee and fireworks companies put up jointly the sum of $300 as a guarantee that the displays would be according to the agreement.

At 9 o'clock Tuesday morning and also at a later hour, loud bombs of the type barred under the agreement, were put off. The mayor immediately advised those in charge that he considered their bonds in the nature of forfeits and investigation was made. It was finally found that all concerned appeared equally responsible for the breaking of the agreement. This morning there was a meeting of the committee and representatives of the fireworks companies and their attorney, James A. Chambers, with the mayor at the conclusion of which Mayor Dunlap assessed fines totalling $100 against the parties concerned, returning the balance of the bond money.

The fines were listed on the docket against the Vitale Fireworks company, the New Castle Fireworks company and Renato Peluso, secretary of the committee, and were $30 in the case of the fireworks companies and $40 in the case of Peluso. The charge was shooting fireworks contrary to the city regulations.

The meeting was enlivened and all put into rather a good humor when an Italian resident appeared with the dress of his wife, which showed a small hole or two in the back, burned there by sparks from the fireworks. The man wanted $35 in damages, but no settlement was made in the office of the mayor.

The mayor stated that the fines imposed might be taken as an indication of greater penalties that might be inflicted in future cases where the city regulation against loud bombs is broken.

According to the letter, the gathering at the park would be at its height just about breakfast time in California and that during that period she would be delving into memories store house and thinking of old acquaintances and friends back in old New Castle.

She stated that it was surprising the number of people of this city that she could recollect, and that her only regret was that she could not be here to participate in Old Timers Day.

Dividend Flow Big To Women Holders

One million dividend checks are being sent annually to women holders of stock in American Telephone & Telegraph Co., according to a compilation by the Wall Street Journal. The shareholders lists of that corporation show that women folk own 4,000,000 shares with a market value of $680,000,000. They collect $36,000,000 annually, $9,000,000 quarterly in dividends. Then again they have had rights at par to new stock worth $30,000,000 more than they paid for it.
Pennsylvania railroad has 71,479 women holders, or 50.38 per cent of the stockholding list, although the per cent owned by them is not as large as those of the men. It is 33.57 per cent of the total stock outstanding. It is worth about $230,000,000.
Women shareholders of United States Steel number 54,016. General Motors has not tabulated its share list as between men and women but Du Pont has 8,189 males and 6,093 females.

Says Potter County Has Best Potatoes

Potter county seems to possess the best potato fields.
C. A. Wilson of York county, a prominent grower on the annual tour of Pennsylvania potato growers, which had a meeting at the Chas. Patton farm on the Harlansburg road last night, stated that the potato fields on the E. R. Blass farm and the Blough Brothers farm in that county were the best that the growers had inspected so far.

There are many detours along the road to success.

COL. LINDBERGH DECLARES PLANES ENTIRELY RELIABLE

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 17.—Flying Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh conclusively proved that air travel was safe, when he addressed the Chamber of Commerce here yesterday.

Military and commercial planes covered approximately 48,000,000 miles during the year ending July 31, with a high percentage of performance and a low fatality and injury record, proving that aviation is practical, the Colonel stated.

"Airplanes of today are perfectly reliable, fairly economical, and rate high in performance," Lindbergh said. "The entire industry is working toward the production of safer and better aircraft under the impetus of popular demand and such awards as the recently announced Guggenheim safe aircraft contest for prizes totaling $150,000."

Anna Buckley Hagan, of 321 West Grant street, one of the two women running for county office this year today announces her intention of seeking the Republican nomination for county auditor. She is also the only New Castle resident seeking the nomination. She says:—
"Since the passage of the nineteenth amendment which enfranchises women, they have been taking more and more active interest in politics. Since 1920 I have interested myself in various ways in the problems of government and am announcing myself for the Republican nomination for county auditor.
"I make no special appeal because I am a woman. Under the law, men and women are equal and neither one can expect any preference because of sex.
"The work of county auditor calls for an ability to handle accounts and this work is not unfamiliar to me. If nominated and elected I feel confident that my work will meet the approval of the voters and I am asking their support, asking them to remember that ability, not sex, nor friendship, nor geographical location should govern their choice."

Recalls Stirring Day Of Civil War When All Lawrence County Armed

"Morgan's Raiders" Are Coming Was Report That Sent County Wild.

Charles Porter, Civil War
Vet Recalls Day At 134th Reunion.

Charles Porter, of Youngstown, O., but raised and reared in Pulaski, Pa., at the reunion of the 134th Regiment held at Pulaski, Tuesday, related how he a lad of 10 years told a gun at the time of the expected raid of Morgan.

One Sunday as they were worshipping in the church at Pulaski, a horseman dashed through the town of Pulaski on his way up the valley relating that Morgan had crossed the Ohio River and was sweeping up the Beaver Valley, burning, killing and taking everything they could lay their hands on and that they might arrive at New Castle at any moment. Church was dismissed at once and the Home Guards were gathered together to help protect their homes from the invader. They were very short of arms, so Charlie Porter, a lad of ten years, and a boy playmate hurried out into the country and brought in each a gun. Charlie brought an old flint lock that even at that day, he relates, it would have been hard to find anyone that could manipulate it. His playmate lugged in an old squirrel rifle. The boys were quite tired by the time they arrived back at the canal where the Home Guards were making ready to embark for New Castle.

The Home Guards went part way to New Castle and camped for the night and returned the next day when they got word that Morgan had been captured just south of Lisbon, Ohio.

Years later Mr. Porter met a man in Youngstown who lived on the hills above the Ohio at Steubenville where Morgan crossed the Ohio River and he said that all the farmers drove their stock and horses and as many provisions as possible far back from the roads so that Morgan would not take them. But he said the terrors of the raid amounted to only the taking of what horses he could find and foraging for their food.

'OLD HOME WEEK'
PLAN IS LAUNCHED AT REUNION HERE

the proceedings at times because of the increasing number of familiar faces that were not present and will not again be present at one of the reunions.

As seemed most fitting for a group of people who have had much to do with the advancement of the city to its present standing in the affairs of the world, it was suggested that it was about time that there be a movement started to hold an Old Home Week in this city, when former residents and people generally should be attracted here to see the wonderful progress that has been made, to renew old friendships over a period of days and have a pleasant, general good time.

During Coming Year.

It was suggested that the proper time to hold such an event would be during the coming year and that it would be fitting and proper for such a movement to be sponsored in its inception by a group of people, who have a meeting each year under circumstances similar to those proposed for Old Home Week.

President John M. Snyder named Fred L. Rentz, who first brought the matter to the attention of the organization, as chairman of a committee which shall have for its purpose the inauguration of such a movement should it be deemed advisable, with the Reynolds School association group as the nucleus of a city-wide move in that direction.

Elect Officers.

All old officers were re-elected by acclamation and are: John M. Snyder, president; William G. Dunn, Fred L. Rentz, William T. Butz, vice presidents; Mrs. J. K. Pollock, secretary, and Robert H. Whaley, treasurer.

Two new vice presidents were elected to fill vacancies caused by death. The newly elected vice presidents are Mrs. Ollie Stenlund Kirk and Mrs. Anna Tobin McGurk.

Like the school boys and girls of this day and age as well as other days, the members of the Reynolds School association began to gather at the W. N. Aiken school Tuesday afternoon, long before time for "school" to take up. There seemed to be an anxiety to be on time on the part of most of those present. In fact, there was one person present, William L. Aiken, son of the principal of the school, after whom the Reynolds school is now named, arrived in the morning so as to be sure he was on time. He was accompanied by his son.

Some Nearly Late.

But like the good old school days, there were those who just couldn't get there until the bell rang. It was a happy throng, in spite of missing faces, that gathered in front of the school for the picture taken before the bell rang, calling them to session. As the group picture was completed, the school gong sounded in regulation form at 2:15 p. m. and the former students of many years ago filed into the old class room, known to some as No. 3 and to others as No. 4, on the first floor and to the rear of the building.

John M. Snyder, president for 20 consecutive years since the association was formed, called the meeting to order and called upon Frank Geiger, one of the school boys present, to open the session with prayer, which he did, calling for the divine blessing on those assembled and their deliberations.

Minutes of the previous meetings were then read by Mrs. J. K. Pollock, the secretary, and approved. The report of the treasurer, R. H. Whaley, was then received and approved. The report showed funds to be low and a collection was taken, which netted $44.21.

Read Messages.

Messages from former students of the school who were unable to be present were then read by the secretary, among them being those of Nan Power Beard of Conneautville, Pa., a former teacher of the school; Eva Shillings Failer, who is in San Souci, Canada, at present, and William C. Hess, who is attending the state convention of the Knights of Pythias. Calling of the roll was dispensed with, owing to the fact that it contains hundreds of names and the method employed in determining who was present was that of having each person stand up and give their name and address in case they were from out of town. This method developed the fact that there were numerous persons from out of town and a considerable distance, also quite a number of persons who were attending for the first time.

The election of officers was then held, after which the meeting was thrown open for remarks by any person in attendance. Among those who spoke were Ben Rhodes of Erie, Pa.; W. E. Jones of Woodlawn, Pa.; William L. Aiken of Sharon, Pa.; Fred L. Rentz, who suggested the Old Home Week for this city; Mrs. Lizzie Simpson Cubbinson, a former teacher in the school, and others.

Former Teachers.

When the call was made for former teachers of the assembled people to stand, there were six ladies present who arose to their feet and were given an ovation by those assembled. They were Mrs. Mary Jameson Book of West Sunbury, Pa.; Mrs. Lizzie Simpson Cubbinson, Mrs. Vina Patterson Durant, Miss Eva Donaldson, Mrs. Laura N. Hill and Mrs. Agnes Douds Kennedy.

In this group and in the entire assemblage, Mrs. Mary Jameson Book was the oldest, being in her 85th year. Mrs. Book was born in 1842 and spent quite a number of years as a teacher in the Reynolds school. She also taught in the Martin Gantz school at one time and at the McClaren school in the Harlansburg district. She married Captain David Book of Company E, 100th Pennsylvania (Roundhead) volunteer infantry 55 years ago. In spite of her advanced years and rather feeble health, Mrs. Book was able to gain considerable enjoyment in renewing old time acquaintanceships with former students.

Out of Town Students Here.

Among the out of town people in attendance were Mrs. John H. Stoddard of Los Angeles, Cal., back after an absence of four years; Mrs. W. E. Mounts of Salem, O., who was accompanied by her husband; Mrs. Austin Porter of Youngstown, O.; Mrs. B. M. Love of San Diego, Cal.; Frank H. McConnell of St. Cloud, Fla.; William Warnock of McKees Rocks, Pa.; William L. Aiken, Sr., and son William of Sharon, Pa.; Mrs. Margaret E. Dadds of Hollywood, Cal., back after an absence of two years; Ben Rhodes of Erie, Pa.; Mrs. Belle Craig Foster of Pittsburgh and J. E. Orr of Leetonia, Ohio.

The session was completed shortly before 4 o'clock with the passing of the resolution that the 21st reunion be held during the coming year at the same place and on the day preceding Old Timers day.

The group went from the school building to Cascade park, where a sumptuous old time picnic supper was enjoyed in the grove. It was one of the most successful events of the kind ever held.

Youngest Old Timer To Attend

"Are you going to the Old Timers' picnic?" was the question asked to a Mercer street business man.

"Yes, although I am not an Old Timer, yet my ten months old son is," was the reply.

"How come?" asked the party of the first part.

"Well," replied the party of the second part, "you see, it's this way. As I understand it a man may not be an old timer, yet his children can be old timers. Although my folks did not come to New Castle before the Civil War, my wife's family did, and that is the way in which my child is an old timer, while I am not."

"Will the old timer of your family go out?" was the next question.

A twinkle came into the business man's eyes as he answered, "Yes, I believe that he should not miss his first old timers' reunion."

Postal Employees Enjoy Vacations

Clerks at the New Castle post office who have started their annual vacations this week include: Miss Garnet Rhodes, Frank Williams, George Owens, Robert A. Fleming, Frank M. Wilson will begin his vacation tomorrow.

Among the carriers who are now enjoying their vacations are John R. Flynn, William P. Ice, foreman of carriers, Jesse C. Wilson, Frank M. Hay, and Albert H. Klingensmith.

You can't tell. Most of those who fuss about the hotel service are living much better than ever they did at home.

CHOSEN QUEEN OF CEREAL CITY

Herewith we present Miss Charlotte Lowe, 19, chosen from among 53 beauties to be "Miss Battle Creek" at the annual beauty pageant at Atlantic City. The daughter of a Battle Creek physician, she's prominent in society.

Sends Greetings From Far West To "Old Timers"

San Diego, California.

To Old Timers Club, Greeting:—

Two years ago, I was with you. How I did enjoy that meeting. I was surprised after all these years that so many were still living that remembered me. While I cannot be with you in person, I will be with you in spirit on the occasion of the twentieth annual reunion at Cascade Park this year. I wish to send my special regards to my partner in the grand march two years ago, Mrs. J. K. Pollock. I don't know whether I will ever be able to meet with you again, but when they get regular passenger airplanes, I might go back. Well, a long communication is not desirable. I will close, with love to you all. S. W. BELL.

CONDUCT HUNT FOR BOMBERS

Governor Fuller Meets With Executive Council On Reward For Bombers Capture.

SEND CONDOLENCE
TO MCHARDY HOME

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Aug. 17.—Governor Alvan T. Fuller was meeting with his executive council today to discuss the offering of a reward for the identification of persons responsible for planting the bomb that wrecked the home of Lewis McHardy, juror in the Sacco-Vanzetti case, and recompense for the homeless man and his family.

McHardy received from the chief executive today a letter congratulating him on the fact that he and his loved ones escaped serious injury, concurring with him in the destruction of his home, and stating that he would be repaid for his loss.

Search for the bombers of the McHardy home continued. A few pieces of wire, a tin and a small box-like affair resembling the bottom of a Japanese lantern were the only clues unearthed. Fingerprints were missing and ownership was not established. Reports reaching Boston of an attempt to wreck a Boston & Maine Railroad Maritime Express, just outside Bangor, Me., were discounted as the work of boys. A track-walker discovered a broken padlock on a switch but was able to throw back the switch before the express thundered up.

CHARLES TURNER IS TAKEN TO HIS HOME

Charles Turner, night clerk at the Little 52 Hotel, who suffered a slight stroke while on duty a few nights ago and was removed to the New Castle hospital, was removed today to his home on Neshannock boulevard, having recovered to a considerable extent.

SAY JOE RIDES BUT DOESN'T PAY

Joe Williams, a gentleman of color, believes in traveling in style. In fact he travels in taxicabs. And he is not satisfied in making short trips. He believes in going from Youngstown to New Castle and from New Castle to Pittsburgh. And he never has the money to pay for these trips, the taxicab companies report.

So when Joe arrived here last night in a Youngstown taxicab and could not pay his bill of $12.50, he landed in the city jail, for that is where the driver brought him, after trying to collect and also trying him out in the matter of getting some change for a twenty dollar bill for him.

Charge Robbery In Hotel Room To New Castle Man

Vito Pagley was arrested here last night on an information and warrant issued against him in Philadelphia, in which he is charged with having robbed his friend, Anthony Verese, of Volant, of $50 in cash, a wrist watch and a hat, while they were in Philadelphia.

It is probable that a settlement of the case will be reached without taking Pagley back to Philadelphia. According to the information received here Pagley went to Philadelphia with Verese. They stopped in a hotel at that place, Verese paying the hotel bill. When Verese woke up in the morning, Pagley was gone, also his money and valuables, it is alleged. He was stranded and went to the police, who raised a collection for him and made it possible for him to return to this city.

Pagley was arrested by Officers Dukes and Samuels.

Steamer Reports Sighting Planes In Dole Air Race

(International News Service)
HONOLULU, Aug. 17.—An unsigned radio message from some ship at sea, reporting the passing high overhead of two Dole planes, was received by the liner Manoa, due in Honolulu at daybreak today.

The Manoa advised Hawaiian stations, however, that she had not been able to identify the ship which sent the report. The planes also were not identified.

The Dole racers flew over the boat at 11:45 p. m. last night, according to the report of the Manoa.

Driving a small car has its drawbacks. It's embarrassing to hear the small boys yell, "Hey mister, where's your other skate?"

A he man is one who lets his wife boss him because he is too proud to quarrel with a woman.

opposed for nomination on his own ticket, the Republican.

For county commissioner there are fifteen Republicans seeking the two nominations, and four Democrats seeking the one nomination. For county treasurer there are seven Republicans in the field and one Democrat. For mayor of the City of New Castle there are four candidates, for city council, sixteen candidates for two positions, and city treasurer, six candidates for the one nomination.

To Draw Soon

Just as soon as Chief Clerk to the County Commissioners, James R. Lamoree can get the avalanche of petitions assorted and filed, he will set a date for the drawing for position on the tickets. This will be done by lot, the former method being to place the names on the ballot according to alphabetic order. Some of the candidates may withdraw before primary election.

Nearly every office drew many candidates. Among the 412 listed are candidates for the major offices such as election officers, assessors and the like. All over the county the urge to be a public official seems to have seized men and women and on Tuesday afternoon the county commissioners' office looked like a political convention.

The field is settled now. The candidates know who will oppose them and from now until September 20 they can devote their time and energies to soliciting votes.

The following list shows those who are entered for the more important offices. The names are listed just as they are listed at the present time in the County Commissioners' office:

Students Dig Up First Submarine

Passaic River Yields What Was The Early Ambitious Work Of Holland.

Needle Shows Location; Hulk Will Be Given To Historical Society.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Search by seven students of the Paterson, N. J., Preparatory School for the first submarine made by John P. Holland, its inventor, was rewarded when they found it while digging on the west bank of the Passaic River almost beneath the Spruce Street bridge at Paterson.

The young men, who plan to study engineering, began the search for sport and educational purposes. They had heard how Holland went down in 1888 in his first submarine, which he launched in the Passaic River, and how persons along the bank had to pull his boat ashore with ropes. He was taken out unharmed.

About a month ago the students began digging along the river shore, working evenings between four and five hours. For some time they were unsuccessful. Then, a week ago, the Passaic Consolidated Water Company lent them a dip needle, used to locate sub-surface metals.

They noticed the needle showed a marked downward dip on the west bank, almost underneath the bridge, and began digging there yesterday. Soon they uncovered the bow of the sunken submarine. They continued their excavation sufficiently to make sure they had found their prize. The craft appeared to be about eighteen feet long and constructed of metal an inch thick. Water seeped into the hole as the young men dug, and finally they desisted.

For many years after it was pulled out of the river the craft lay abandoned against the bank. The course of the river changed somewhat and the discarded hull sank. Its salvagers will raise it in the fall and present it to the Passaic County Historical Society.

CIVIC CLUBS PLAN EVENT

Joint Corn Roast For Rotary, Kiwanis And Lion's Suggested.

The New Castle Lions club favors a joint corn roast with the New Castle Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, such as was held year before last and to try and arrange the joint outing a committee was named to confer with committees of the other two clubs.

The Lions committee is composed of A. C. McCoy, Dr. T. M. Shaffer, Ed. C. Wilson, John B. Waddington, P. W. Bartholomew. This committee will have charge of the arrangements for the Lions. Those who attended the party at the Boy Scouts camp in 1925 remember the large crowd and the great time that was had. It is believed that a joint affair this year will be equally enjoyable.

The Lions club has donated to the coming convention of the State Sub-bath club association, a shield to be given away in the attendance contests that are always a part of every convention. The shield will bear the emblem of the Lions club and a plate for engraving when it is awarded during the meeting.

At his gardens at Enon Valley Mr. Good has literally thousands of plants in mammoth beds. He says that this spring he planted 76,000 gladiola bulbs, and there are very few which are not blooming.

Visitors are always welcome at his gardens. Mr. Good says, and he issues a special invitation to all lovers of flowers and gladiola fanciers.

Vanity Case Goes With Miss Doran To Honolulu

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, Oakland, Cal., Aug. 17.—Miss Mildred Doran, 22, of daring, reading, "titting and rhythmic" teacher of Flint Mich., now on her way to Hawaii in her biplane, Miss Doran was the center of attraction when she walked on the field Tuesday preparatory to her take-off.

Clad in trim khaki uniform, fashioned after those made for army officers and wearing her own sorority pin and six fraternity pins, Miss Doran climbed to a broadcasting station and told her radio audience that she is just a sure she is going to land in Honolulu as she is that she will within a few weeks be back among the home folks in Flint.

"Do those fraternity pins mean anything?" asked a curious newspaper woman with a significant smile.

Miss Doran smiled a funny little smile and answered: "No, no, they represent dead scalps and show what I got out of college education. They were all fine fellows." She made the past tense quite pronounced.

MILLS LIKELY CABINET MAN

Under Secretary Of Treasury Logical Successor To Mellon.

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 17.—Ogden L. Mills, who became under-secretary of the treasury only five and a half months ago, has gradually stepped into place as the nation's fiscal leader, until now he is the heir-apparent to the post of secretary of the treasury.

During the long vacation of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon in a yacht on the Mediterranean, Undersecretary Mills, as acting secretary, has assumed direction of the nation's fiscal affairs, a position for which he was prepared by his private financial experience and his work as his party's tax leader in the house of representatives.

Mills will be 43 years old on August 23. This means he has, if he wants it, and if the Republicans continue in power, a long future career in the United States government. Secretary Mellon is nearly 73 years old. He will have been a member of the cabinet eight years when the present administration gives way to the next, and will be then 75 years old. Undersecretary Mills is his logical successor—if the Republicans elect the next president, and if Undersecretary Mills does not make political mistakes in the campaign.

Extremely cautious in financial affairs, Undersecretary Mills is just the opposite in politics, however. When he was the candidate for governor of New York last year, he rushed into rash allegations against Governor Alfred E. Smith, which older and more experienced New York Republicans, knowing well the affection New York people have for their governor, would not have dared make. Yet this man who made statements against Al Smith which he could not substantiate to the satisfaction of the voters of the state, is not one to rush into a rash reduction, even for the benefit of the Republican party in a presidential election year.

PUSSY CAT SETS POLICE SQUAD ON BURGLAR CHASE

Trapped In Iron Grill And Door,
It Causes Alarm To Go Off

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The pet cat of Louis Marshall, wealthy lawyer, called out a detail of special police this morning to save it from an untimely end. The process involved setting abroad a first class burglar scare, but extreme measures were justified, for the cat was nearing its final meow.

Shortly after midnight this morning a burglar alarm signal indicating housebreakers at the residence of Dr. Alexander J. Lambert, a neighbor of the lawyer.

A detail of armed men rushed by automobile to investigate. They were about to leave when faint meowing drew them back to servants' quarters down stairs. There they found the Marshall cat, trapped between an iron grill and a door.

It had leaped over the grill, but once within it found no footroom for a spring back to freedom and in this predicament had scratched away at burglar alarm wires.

Armour Suffered Great Financial Reverses, Claim

CHICAGO, Ill., August 17.—Although Ogden Armour was rated as one of the world's richest men, his estate at his death was estimated at $20,000, was the statement made by the Chicago Herald and Examiner yesterday.

"He was a financial casualty of the war, and he took his punishment like a brave soldier," said the paper.

"Events which he could not control engulfed him, and he threw in everything that he had to save himself. By tremendous sacrifices, meeting losses of between $100,000,000 and $150,000,000 he protected the name of Armour."

"By his own admission, at the peak of his reverses he lost over $1,000,000 a day for 130 days."

"I lost money faster than I thought to be possible," he told a friend.

Greenville Kiwanis Club Celebrating

Leads Every Club In State In Attendance Record For

The information was received here this week and furnished reason for jubilation at the weekly luncheon.

Pottstown took second place in the state and Meadville third place but Greenville was the only club east of the Mississippi to place in the leading contenders of the nation, those holding the first three places being Washington and California.

Former New Castle Man Reads

(Special To The News)
HARBOR SPRINGS, Mich., Aug. 17.—Dean W. Martin of the Ethel fox ranch, east of Harbor Springs, attended the sessions of the Michigan State Fox Breeders' association, held in Traverse City a short while ago, and read a paper on "Wild Fox Food; Parasites and Proliferation."

Mr. Martin will be remembered as a man educated at Grove City college, Cornell university, and the University of Chicago.

Formerly of New Castle, Pa., Mr. Martin claims that his strain of silver foxes are scientifically chosen, then they are improved for many generations, and a pedigree is attached to each animal that he sells.

About seventy five men and twenty five women fox breeders attended the convention, and Dr. R. W. O'Reilly, president of the American National Fox Breeders' association, was present, and delivered one of the principal addresses.

Try Magnesia For Indigestion
People who suffer from indigestion usually have tried pepto-bismol, drugs and various digestive aids and get little more than slight temporary relief—sometimes not even that.
But before giving up to chronic dyspepsia, just try the effect of a little Bisulphate of Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but pure Bisulphate of Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any drug store in either powder or tablet form.
Take a teaspoonful of the powder or four tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment, and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat. You can enjoy your meals without a fear of indigestion.

A. Scott Kildoo Is Auditor Candidate

Slippery Rock Township Man Candidate For Republican Nomination

A. Scott Kildoo of Slippery Rock township today announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the office of county auditor subject to the primaries on September 20, 1927. Mr. Kildoo's statement follows:

"In December, 1926, I was appointed as a county auditor to serve out the few months remaining in the term of M. B. Hogue. During the months I have served the audit for the year of 1926 was made and the efficiency with which it was done is now a matter of record.
"I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for a full term. My experience in the months I have served have convinced me of the importance of this office. Every dollar spent by your county commissioners must be passed upon by your county auditors and a true report made to the court and the taxpayers.
"To do this work requires no small ability and the auditors chosen should be persons capable of such work. My experience as a business man for 22 years has fitted me for it, I believe, and I ask the support of the Republican voters at the primary election.
"My home is in Slippery Rock township, in which township I have lived since I was born."

LEMONS WHITEN THE SKIN

Better than "Bleaches" for Freckles, Tan, etc.

The juice of two lemons squeezed into a bottle with Orchard White, will soothe sunburn, and clear up freckles, tan, discolored skin quicker than anything you can buy already prepared, and it doesn't cost you near as much.
Any druggist can sell you Orchard White, and it only takes a minute to mix it with the juice of two lemons. Then you have enough to last you all season.
It makes a delightful lotion which you can put on your face, neck, arms or hands at any time, and it will keep them nice and white. Mix a bottle now, so you will have it handy to use should your skin begin to turn dark or rough.

Half Minute Interviews

Some Local Comment, Ideas And Suggestions As Given To News Man

By ALFRED SWIFT

W. G. ECKLES, Architect
The pavements, curbs, and the space between the curb and the sidewalk are by far the most important spaces from a beauty standpoint than anything else in the city.
In New Castle we have always had poor curbing, but lately the paving has been improving. But the sidewalks are not kept straight and neat in the residential districts. In other places, the sidewalks are not continuous to the curb, and as a result, there is a hole between, and sometimes this is not even covered with grass.
For contrast, look at the electric company painting the poles and traffic lights. Perhaps the only people that think of the beauty of the space between the sidewalk and the curb are the gasoline companies, who make their places of business attractive.

ROSE RICE, Clerk, Leslie Hotel
The other evening a lock salesman from Pittsburgh registered and then went up to his room. In about ten minutes he came down again, and claimed that he could not open his door with the key which I had given him. A bell boy opened the door for him, and he went to bed. The next morning, he called up the lobby and asked someone to come up and open his door for him. He had been working at it about half an hour, but could not get it open. When he came down to the lobby, he cursed all locks. But he was a lock salesman. In his next breath he said, "I understand locks, I sell them."

CHARLES O'BRIEN, Clerk to Street Department, 310 West Park Way
Coolidge would be the man for the next president. I do not think that he will be elected, but he would make a big hit, if he were to be nominated. His attitude in his statement that he would not run is intelligent, at least. A good long rest might mean a lot to the President from the health standpoint. While he was President, you remember, he lost both his father and his son.
But the thing that worries me is:

School Buildings To Be Ready For Opening Of School

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Aug. 17.—Supt. Ray Smith stated this morning that the school buildings being repaired would be ready on the opening date of school which is set September 6. All the older buildings are being re-decorated and repaired for the fall term.

The beginning of a new system will be used this year in the school, beginning with the 9th grade, and gradually working up to the high school at which time it will be two semesters in the school year. Meaning that there will be a graduating class in January, with regular commencement week and another in June. This aids in the cramped condition of the schools, and has been in practice in other schools for some time. The plan received the approval of the Board of Education at one of their meetings some time ago, but Supt. Smith states that the change will have to be brought about gradually.

Children Must Be Vaccinated Before Entering Schools

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Aug. 17.—The complete enrollment for school this fall is expected to be around 3,000. All children who have not yet been vaccinated are expected to be before the opening of the fall term on September 6.

As a matter of general health many parents are having the children's tonsils and adenoids removed, although there is no state law to this effect, as there is regarding the vaccination.

Annual Pageant To Be Staged At Dick Victor Camp

Tales Of Robin Hood To Be Given Sunday Afternoon;
80 Boys In Cast

(Special To The News)
ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Aug. 17.—"Tales of Robin Hood," a playlet, will be staged at the Dick Victor Camp for Boys, near here, this coming Sunday afternoon, August 21, at 3 o'clock Eastern Standard Time, according to announcement made today by Directors Thomas Lewis and Mitchell Blis-tein.

Considerable work has been placed on making this playlet the best of any camping organization in the United States, and from all indications the event will be a pronounced success.

Robin Hood will be staged out-doors in a natural amphitheatre. A huge castle has been erected with outlying surroundings and a pleasing spectacle will greet those who witness the play. Included in the cast are 80 boy campers who will demonstrate their ability in dramatics, special work has been taught the boys throughout the summer by Tom Lewis, a Carnegie Tech student. Special orchestra and music, horses, costumes, and everything necessary to make up a first class play has been arranged for the occasion. Parents and friends of the boys are invited to attend this pageant and fully one thousand people are expected at camp for the event.

Camp closes here August 25 but a fathers' and sons' week may be held following the regular camping period.

Many Ellwoodians Flock To Park For Old Timers Day

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 17.—To a commuter who is accustomed to size along the Ellwood-New Castle road as fast as a 1926 Ford can size, it was something of a shock this morning to discover that many other motorists had the same route in mind, and ambles along in a long "parade" for many miles.

The propitious moment for passing didn't present itself, and anyhow Fords are tricky—Just when you think you are going to whirl past, you seem to stand still with the other machine—so on and on until Cascade Park was reached and lo! they all turned in and had their "two-bits" ready for the gate man, all set for a wonderful time at "Old Timers Day."

Oil Production Shows Decrease

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Domestic crude oil production was estimated today by the American Petroleum Institute at 2,575,550 barrels for the week ended August 13, against 2,577,150 barrels for the previous week, a decrease of 1,600 barrels. The daily average output of California and Mid-continent fields was 617,700 and 1,620,350 barrels respectively.

Receipts of California crude and refined oil at Atlantic and gulf coast ports during the week totaled 707,000 barrels, a daily average of 101,000 barrels against a daily average of 81,857 barrels for the preceding week. Imports of crude and refined oils at the principal United States ports averaged 146,285 barrels as compared with the previous week's average of 197,429 barrels.

A Real Tribute to the Dead
In the United States—until very recently—the good and bad alike were buried in sudden mouldy graves with only a grave of protection in wooden or metal boxes. But every up-to-date undertaker now uses the Norwalk Vault. Made of moulded reinforced cement, it is airtight and moistureproof. The Norwalk seals by hand, into one solid piece of masonry. Through its eternal protection, every detail of burial becomes an everlasting tribute to the dead. Made by

CHILD PARALYSIS TOLL SIX IN OHIO

State Warns Physicians In All
Cities To Report
Cases

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 17.—Spreading of infantile paralysis and exhaustion of the supply of Rosenow serum, believed to be the only effective treatment, have caused a serious condition in Ohio. Col. C. D. Robbins, chief of the division of communicable diseases of the state health department, declared Tuesday.

Although 53 cases and six fatalities have been reported to the state health department so far this month, only two bottles of the serum exist. They are in a local drug house.

"Although the disease is spreading, we do not want to cause needless alarm," Col. Robbins said. "The worst thing for parents to do in attempts to prevent children from contracting it is to take them away from their resident city. They might move into a section where the disease is even more infectious."

A state wide warning was issued by the health department today to physicians to "find and report cases now; neglect of this and of appropriate quarantine measures will be disastrous."

On Aug. 15 there were 77 cases. Many of these have not been reported by card to the state health department.

There are 36 cases in Tuscarawas and Belmont counties, including 17 in Martins Ferry and 11 in Uhrichsville and Dennison.

At Marion five cases have been reported.

FIRST CARLOAD
LOT OF PRETZELS
ARRIVES IN CITY

Police were called to the Lincoln avenue district by the report that three men were acting in a suspicious manner in the vicinity of a home there, where a party was in progress.

Officer Dukes and Samuels found a man named Al Gosnell lying on the corner, near this home, in a drunken condition and arrested him. Another call was received later that the two other men had returned and Officers Logan, Thompson, Steiner, Dukes and Samuels scoured the district.

They found the advertising car of a tobacco man parked in the street and were making arrangements to take it into a garage, when a man, giving the name of P. J. Barrett came up and claimed ownership. He was under the influence of liquor and was arrested. They then picked up Ernest Kostiche in the vicinity and he was under the influence of liquor and evidently the third man of the party.

This morning Barrett was assessed and paid a fine of $50 on a disorderly conduct charge while the other two men were discharged. Barrett claimed he had picked up the two men for a ride. None of them could give a good explanation of their actions.

You may like pretzels, either with or without, but as avid an appetite as you may have for the doughnuts with cramps, can you imagine 500,000 pretzels all in one group, or flock or however pretzels gather together?

New Castle has just received its first carload of pretzels, a car load of them, get that, the huge order being received by Ted Marlin, the well known local pretzel magnate. In the carload, were 1774 of the former varieties of Bock beer, which are now used as a companion for soft drinks.

Yet these would seem as good as the old days if you had the same good appetite.

SEEK TITLE BOUT REFEREE IN CHICAGO

Dave Miller Likely Choice

Picking Referee To Handle Tunney-Dempsey Battle Is Task.

MUCH MAY DEPEND ABILITY OF MAN

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service
NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—According to advices arriving today from the land where they no longer take machine gun bullets without a first baseman's glove, except on the first bounce, Mother Macchree had a brow like a billiard table compared with the official frontpiece of the Illinois boxing commission. Messrs. Prehn and Reicher, it seems, are "so furored and wrinkled with care" because they are due to sponsor what may become a second battle of the belt line on Sept. 22 and, with everybody calling his shots nowadays, the referee must be a gent who can call louder and longer than the average fish-monger.

An Illinois man, it also appears, is certain to get the appointment for the Dempsey-Tunney meeting, which is interesting in view of the fact that they have called their share of sour ones out that way.

From an application list of more than one hundred, it is my information that the following constitute the survivors in the estimation of the commission:

Dave Miller, Joe Chynski, the old heavyweight; Benny Yanger, ex-lightweight; Jimmy Gardner, Dave Barry, another former heavyweight; Phil Collins, Ike Bernstein, Tommy Thomas and Joe McNamara. Miller is supposed to be the most highly esteemed candidate at the moment, but, as to that, there seems to be no stand out referee in the district. Miller resigned not so long ago, was asked to reconsider the matter and apparently hastened to do so. Anyhow, he "worked" a minor bout there several weeks back.

Yanger, the man who thought Mickey Walker beat Tiger Flowers and put it in writing on the little slip of paper. The writer didn't see that fight but the decision, right or wrong, would seem to let Yanger out like a ten-day release. As to Barry, they intimate that he lacks initiative and the Dempsey-Tunney referee may need plenty of that, among other things. Chynski would add color to the situation and possibly something else but I don't know what it is. Joe is not so young as he was, differing in that respect from all the rest of us. Gardner is said to have made the old Wilson-Downey decision and a lot of the boys liked it not.

Collins is the man who said that Sammy Mandell beat Rocky Kansas for the lightweight title and, although no cared either way, the comment was somewhat adverse whenever the subject was mentioned, which was not often. Bernstein and Thomas operate at small clubs and, therefore, may be eliminated automatically.

Among the applicants is none other than Battling Nelson, former lightweight champion. He may see the fight but not in the ring. Emil Thiry, who has been around longer than Connolly's other eye, has received some mention for the spot and so has Tommy Loftus.

However, I am informed that the contest has narrowed down at this time to a choice between Barry and Collins, with the former somewhat favored.

Males may be superior in some ways, but the hand that rocks the cradle isn't the one that rocks the boat.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner issued a call for all candidates for the 1927 New Castle high football team to meet at the senior high school on Thursday evening at 7:30.

It is requested that all candidates who expect to make the trip to camp this year be present at the meeting.

Queer system! The writers make the magazine, and any one of 87 pages of advertising will pay for all they do.

Nabholtz Gets Hole In One

DUBLIN, Aug. 17.—Larry Nabholz, American professional, shot a hole in one during his first round in the Irish open golf championship at the Port Marnock course yesterday.

In scoring a 77, which left him five strokes behind the leader, W. Nolan of Port Marnock, Nabholz delighted his gallery by holing an iron shot from the tee at the short seventh.

Bill Mehlhorn, who is barnstorming with Nabholz, had 75 for his first round.

Another 18 holes will be played Wednesday, after which the "first 60" will play 36 holes to decide the championship.

"Cents" Hops To Trim Agathons

Two Victories This Week Would Put Team In Second Place.

SCHEDULED TO PLAY AGATHONS THURSDAY

New Castle has a chance to land second place in the O. & P. League providing they can take two games from Massillon this week as Canton defeated the Agathons yesterday and landed first place.

The Centennials are scheduled to play the Agathons here Thursday evening at 6 p. m., and at Massillon, Saturday. Two victories would put the Centennials within half a game of the fast-playing Cantonians.

Twilight Teams To Resume Series Tuesday, August 23

The Twilight league series for the championship of the junior loop, will be resumed on Tuesday, August 23, it was announced today. The Ryan-town and Lawrence Indies teams, are rarin' to go again.

The series stands deadlocked at one all. The Ryan-town boys captured the first battle, and the Indies came to life and knocked the cover off the ball in the second game.

There is considerable interest in this series, as attested by the fact that over 1,000 attended the last game of the series played on Thursday, August 18.

Ruth Is Now Only One Homer Behind

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—With Babe Ruth hitting bigger and better homers than ever before, interest was at fever heat today in the great home run derby between the king of swat and his younger rival Lou Gehrig.

The Babe's thirty-seventh homer, made yesterday, sailed clean over the right field stand in Chicago, the first ever hit over it.

Ruth is now only one homer behind Gehrig. Both are some distance behind Ruth's 1921 record, however.

Rogers Hornsby clouted his twentieth homer, tying Hack Wilson for second place in the National league race for home run honors.

HOLLAND'S BEST BET

Ask the average sports fan to name the outstanding sports celebrity whose name begins with the letter "P" and the probabilities are that he would mention Charley Paddock, Herb Pennock or C. Pyle. He would if he first gave the list due consideration.

Among the other outstanding members of the same family, however, are:

Roger Peckinpaugh, Wallie Pipp and Jeff Pfeffer (who's still in the game as coach).

Gerald Patterson in tennis. Allan Parke among the jockeys. Mrs. Betty Becker Pinkston, famous Olympic swimmer and diving star, and her hubby, Clarence, also a diving star.

Eric Pedley, in the polo ranks. Otto Pelzer, German runner. Paoli, French weight thrower. And George Pease, of grid fame, Cornell.

CLIFTON FLATS TAKE VICTORY

Coates Hurls Two-Hit Game As Mates Pound Way To Shut-out Victory

Coates pitched a two-hit game last night at the Clifton Flats Field, as the Flats aggregation downed the South Side Market team 8 to 0.

The Flats boys found the pitching of DiMuccio to their liking and pounded out twelve hits. Bunched hits in the second, third, fifth and sixth frames gave the Flats team their victory.

Baptists Down Cen. Christians

First Baptist Team Takes Fall Out Of League Leaders 8 To 4

The First Baptist team downed the league leading Central Christians 8 to 4, in a fast game staged Tuesday night, at the Colonial grounds.

The game was a pitchers battle for five innings between Reed and Shiek, but the Baptist hammered Shiek from the mound in the sixth by a surprise rally that netted them four runs, and enough to snatch the victory.

The league leaders kicked in with four errors that didn't help very much.

De Mar Walks And Runs 150 Miles

EAST NORTHFIELD, Mass., Aug. 17.—Clarence De Mar, veteran marathoner, ran and walked 105 miles on sweet corn, grape juice, water and milk. He and William M. Leach came by "hanks" mare from Reading, Mass., to attend a Christian Endeavor conference.

Akron Boy Wins From Fitzgerald

After Second Round Youngstown Boy Is Cuffed About Ring.

YOUNGSTOWN, Aug. 17.—Benny Burns of Akron outpointed Freddy Fitzgerald of Youngstown in six rounds here last night. He opened a deep gash over Fitzgerald's right eye that blinded his vision and Freddy was a mark for Burns whenever the Akron lad desired to fight.

After the second round it was evident that the Youngstown boy had little chance to win and in the fifth Burns took things decidedly easy while Fitzgerald tried his best to sneak over a punch victory. In the sixth, however, Burns opened up with an aggressive attack and coasted home with plenty of time to spare.

Tony Leon of Dover defeated Joe Shurra in six rounds. Tony gave Joe a merry shelling after the first round but could not stop the Pittsburgh bantamweight.

Jackie Powers of Youngstown defeated Jackie Stempel of Akron in six rounds. The first part of the fight was fairly close but in the last few rounds Powers hit Stempel almost at will.

Fail to Impress.
Jimmie Dime of New Castle, sent Joe Midway, a middleweight into the ring against the Polish Wonder.

Neither showed to good advantage in the five round affair.

While Midway showed a little more knowledge of "how it should be" he was erratic and the Wonder was comical. The Wonder hit him after the bell ended the fifth round and was disqualified.

Bill Clark, a light-heavyweight, of New Castle and Mel French of East Palestine, furnished another act and while Bill was willing to fight French wasn't and didn't know the first thing about boxing.

After a couple of rounds in which swings and leg-holds predominated French bent over on the ropes like a jack-knife and Clark lifted a hook to the stomach that stopped French.

Billy Hahn went out in less than a round and Pete Canell was returned winner of a hollow victory. Hahn started running at the bell and didn't know how to put up his hands.

Methodists Win From Third U. P.

D. Hughes Pitches One-Hit Game As Methodists Take 5 To 0 Victory

D. Hughes on the mound for the First Methodist team came within an ace of pitching a perfect no-run no-hit game last night at the Lehigh field. The First M. E. boys whitewashed the Third U. P. team by a score of 5 to 0. Hughes allowed but one hit.

Darkness halted the game in the sixth frame. The Methodists found the offerings of Davies for seven hits and five runs.

By their victory last night the Methodists go into first place in the church league. The league leading Central Christians were downed by the Baptists.

He's a Whizz

Lynn Larry, sensational Oakland shortstop, has half the major league clubs angling for him. The price has gone above the $100,000 mark, and the auction may bring a new record for sales of ball players.

Conflict Looms In Fight World

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—A conflict between the New York and Pennsylvania boxing commissions loomed today as the result of the action of Charlie Cardo, manager of Red Chapman, in signing Chapman to fight Benny Bass "for the featherweight championship" in Philadelphia on September 12. Acting on the suggestion of the New York commission, Promoter Humbert Pugazy of New York had planned to match Chapman for a bout with Tony Canzonieri here on Sept. 17.

If the Pennsylvania commission approves the Philadelphia match today, complications may arise.

Married Women Best Golfers

Former Drug Addict Now Living In South And Doing Fine Hotel
Business.

By F. M. DACEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent
DENVER, Aug. 17.—The woman who harbors secret longings to become a golf champion should start her training by getting married.
This is the conclusion reached by observers of the Women's State Golf Tournament held here recently.
In the qualifying round of the tournament 41 women teed off, and of this number only three were unmarried. From the start it was evident that the champion would emerge from among the 38 grandmothers, mothers and brides and not from among the three misses.
Not only does the present advantage in golf appear to lie with the married women, but a glance over the record of past title-holders shows that this is not a new development.

Out of five champions listed, only one was unmarried.
Is the efficiency of the modern matron on the golf course only an added indication of her efficiency in the home? observers asked.
House-keeping which formerly consumed all of the married woman's time appears to be as well or better done than in the past, they declared.
And added that the modern child is happy and healthy as ever his parents were, and he is very often much better behaved.
There is no indication as to which particular phase of the married woman's life especially adds to her ability as a golfer. It was impossible to interview any of the husbands on the question or perhaps the mystery would have been solved.
With all the modern conveniences for doing housework as an inducement to the girls of today to join the ranks of the married, the added vision of golfing glories should be enough to convince the more sporting members of the sex of the advisability of murmuring the fateful "I do."
In five years George L. (Len) Reamey, drug addict and member of Denver's famous million-dollar bunco ring, who turned State's evidence and sent 20 of the gang to the State Penitentiary, has established for himself

a record as a prosperous, respected business man.
After the trial in which Reamey played so important a part, he was spirited out of the city. He changed his name and appearance and he and his wife took up their residence in a southern city where they have found success and peace.
"Reamey is now the owner of a small hotel business. He is a member of a luncheon club in the city where he lives, and he has become the teacher of a Sunday School class," declared Roy O. Samson, Denver investigator, who aided in the round-up of the bunco gang five years ago.
Samson refused to betray the city where Reamey is living or the name which he has assumed. To give this information would be to sign the man's death warrant, the detective believes.
"His comrades call him 'the squealer,' explained Samson. "The men whom he betrayed are all out of the penitentiary now, save for the few who died before the end of their sentence. Their hatred of him is deadly."

New Music Head At Geneva College

Geneva College whose Fall term opens September 13th is issuing a special bulletin announcing the reorganization and enlargement of its

Prof. Frank Hardman, with ten

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

This is a new column ladies and gentlemen of the reading audience.
A brand new column, or part of one.
Maybe you'll like it, I hope you will. Its written for your entertainment and perhaps, now and then,
your edification.
Everything has a design and the design of this one is to bring to your attention little things that happen in the city. All of which, as Queen Isabella said as she was told of Columbus discovering Forty Second street and Broadway, is interesting, if true, And I'll try to stick to the truth. As far as possible.
There you have it. It won't be a heavy column, not a scientific column, just one devoted to this and that.
After you've read the first page, and the society page, and the editorial page and the sport page, looked over the comics and read the Hints and Dints, maybe you'll have a minute or two before dinner to look over this column.
All Right? Right!

Has it occurred to you that a year from now Washington street will be a different looking place than it was a year ago? At least five stores have been done over, in several instances changed altogether, and a bank building is going up at the corner of Mercer and Washington. It's going to change the entire picture of the street, and how.

These salesmen are a funny outfit. Just last night I stepped into a drugstore and you can't guess what a salesman was selling the drugist.
False faces. Sure enough. Those grotesque looking "funnyfaces" that you and I got such a kick out of when we were kids. The faces were for Halloween, which isn't so far off at that.

The East Side folks are noted for a lot of things. Nice homes, good citizens, and a lot of civic spirit. To this add one thing more. Horseshoe pitching. Up in back of Marshall avenue they have a court for horseshoes and there's a lot of sharpshooters. Got inveigled into a game Monday night and the way those lads hung them over the peg was a treat.
John Beynon, Bill Koehner and a chap named Bixler who seemed to have a ringer complex. In case any other section of the city takes them on in a contest, put a little sugar on the East Side lads.

Just to mix a little politics into the column on the first day, the entry list at the court house looks like a list of all the citizens in a small town. Councilmen, commissioners, supervisors, tax collectors, or what have you. The barrier went down last night.
That paving job on Lathrop street looks mighty good from a distance.
Hope it's as good as it looks for it's going to provide a quick lead in to the East Side from the South Side.

Donnelly Writes For Magazine

Tells How To Sell Insurance; Ranks With Leaders
In U. S.

In the current issue of the Insurance Salesman, a magazine issued at Indianapolis, Indiana, for insurance salesmen, there is a list of the insurance agents of the various companies doing business in this country and listed because they are the best salesmen of the various companies and entitled to be named under the head of "Who Was Who In 1926."

In this list is the name of Mc-Clelland J. Donnelly of this city, local representative of the Edward A.
Woods company agency of the Equitable Life Assurance Society and he stands second among all the agents listed for the amount of insurance written, he having written insurance to the amount of $3,423,640 in 1926.
This included all classes of insurance.
There is also in the same issue, an article by Mr. Donnelly in which he tells how and why he is sold on insurance and how in his estimation the average insurance agent does not work up to more than one-third his capacity, otherwise there would be far more insurance sold. Preceding

DE WITT CLINTON ENGINE READY

Will Be Feature Of Centenary Exhibit At Baltimore
Next Month

Dignified, with the pride of a retired veteran that has seen long years of service, the famous DeWitt Clinton locomotive, the first iron horse to puff its way up a New York roadbed, has arrived in Baltimore and is patiently awaiting the day when it will take a prominent place in the centenary exhibit of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, to be held at Halethorpe, Baltimore, September 24 to October 8.

The old engine, with a train of curiously constructed carriages, is reposing in temporary obscurity while awaiting its curtain call. One of the first locomotives to draw carriages containing passengers in the New World, the DeWitt Clinton was the third iron horse built in the United States for actual service.
It was built in 1831, at a time when the iron horse was a sawky preposterous affair, and this old engine wheeled between Albany and Schenectady, awezing those who witnessed this new spectacular triumph of man's ingenuity. The old timer was but little removed from the old fashioned stage coach which used to rattle over the national roads on scheduled time. It was planned by John B. Jervis and was built by Dave Matthew, who was also the first engineer.

If tests are successful, the time honored locomotive will run under its own steam at the pageant at Baltimore next month.

Do you feel like going back to bed?

AFTER YOU have dressed your children, fed them, and sent them off to school, do you feel like going back to bed? Do you shrink from your daily task of dish-washing and house-cleaning? Are you tired? Discouraged?

Many women have found that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for that tired feeling. It builds up the appetite. It induces natural sleep. Read what these two women say about it.

GAINED 18 POUNDS

Cleveland, Ohio:—After having my first baby I lost weight no matter what I did. I went down to 98 pounds. My neighbor told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it helped her very much, so I tried it. After taking four bottles I weigh 116 pounds. It has just done wonders for me and I can do my housework now without one bit of trouble.
Mrs. M. Riessinger, 10004 Nelson Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

NERVOUS SPELLS GONE

St. Paul, Minn.:—I used to get nervous spells that would last a couple of days and were so bad that I was afraid in my own house in broad daylight. One day a little booklet was left on my porch and I read it through. I found a case similar to mine. I bought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and have had fine results. Now housekeeping doesn't tire me. Mrs. Jack Lorberter,
